Oklahoma State University (OSU) is committed to maintaining a learning environment that is free from discriminatory conduct based on race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. OSU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational programs and activities. Examples of sexual misconduct and/or sex discrimination include: sexual violence, sexual harassment, sexual assault, sexual exploitation, stalking, or gender-based discrimination. OSU encourages any student who knows that he or she may have been a victim of sexual misconduct or sexual discrimination to immediately report the incident to the Title IX Coordinator (campus contacts below). Students may also report incidents of sexual misconduct or sex discrimination to a faculty or staff member, who is then required by Federal law (Title IX) to notify the Title IX or Deputy Title IX Coordinator. If a reporting student would like to keep the details confidential, the student may speak with staff in the Student Counseling Center (405-744-5472) or the University's Victim Advocate (Suzanne Burks: 405-744-6418). For more information regarding Title IX locations, please go to: http://1is2many.okstate.edu. Founded on Dec. 25, 1890, only 20 months after the Land Run of 1889, Oklahoma State University began as Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, the state’s land-grant institution. When the first students assembled for class in 1891, no buildings, books or curriculum existed. It took 2½ years after classes began in local churches for the college’s 144 students to move into the first academic building, Old Central. Oklahoma A&M’s first commencement, with six male graduates, was in 1896.

Land-grant institutions were created during Abraham Lincoln’s presidency to provide all citizens with greater access to a college education. Oklahoma State University continues that land-grant tradition today. The large and comprehensive Stillwater campus comprises 27,819 acres and 493 buildings, all while maximizing the personal attention given to each student.
OSU encompasses five distinct administrative areas: Academic Affairs, Student Affairs, Institutional Diversity, Enrollment Management & Marketing, and Administration and Finance. Each area provides very specific guidance for OSU’s campus.

Academic Affairs
Dr. Gary Sandefur, Provost and Senior Vice President
101 Whitehurst | 405-744-5627
academicaffairs.okstate.edu
Academic Affairs provides guidance for areas directly related to the university’s academic endeavors, including student records and academic instruction. Academic Affairs includes offices related to academic success, including academic advising, faculty support, Scholar Development, The Honors College, University Assessment and Testing, International Outreach, the Office of the Registrar, Academic Services for Student-Athletes and University College Advising.

Administration and Finance
Joe Weaver, Vice President
208 Whitehurst | 405-744-2690
vpaf.okstate.edu
Administration and Finance oversees the planning, design and implementation of the university’s financial and business service operations. Administration and Finance areas include the Office of the Bursar, Budget and Asset Management, Human Resources, Parking and Transit Services, Information Technology and Public Safety.

Enrollment Management and Marketing
Kyle Wray, Vice President
218 Student Union | 405-744-4366
emm.okstate.edu
Enrollment Management & Marketing provides the “face” of OSU to incoming students, families, alumni, campus visitors and prospective student programs. Areas of leadership include Undergraduate Admissions, Scholarships and Financial Aid, New Student Orientation & Enrollment and University Marketing.

Institutional Diversity
Dr. Jason Kirksey, Vice President
408 Whitehurst | 405-744-9154
diversity.okstate.edu
The Division of Institutional Diversity works to engage the OSU community with progressive programs and initiatives focused on embracing, enhancing, celebrating, and promoting diversity and inclusiveness. Our goal is to cultivate campus communities that not only are open, welcoming, and respectful, but also that promote the continuous increase of cultural awareness and understanding throughout the OSU community.

Student Affairs
Dr. Lee Bird, Vice President
201 Whitehurst | 405-744-5328
studentaffairs.okstate.edu
Student Affairs provides leadership for nonacademic instruction areas essential to the university. All areas of Student Affairs come in contact with students’ academic efforts and support the primary academic mission of the university. Primary areas of oversight include Leadership and Campus Life, Department of Wellness, Career Services, Residential Life, the Student Union, University Counseling Services and University Health Services.
OSU Facts and Figures

Oklahoma State University is committed to making information about the university easily accessible. The Office of Institutional Research and Information Management provides comprehensive data and a thorough look at OSU’s divisions, colleges and departments, helping students and parents make informed decisions. The following information is housed on the IRIM website at osuledgers.okstate.edu.

- Academic Ledgers contain a five-year history of student, faculty, research, financial information and tuition/mandatory fee rates. The academic ledgers are available for the entire university, as well as each academic college and each college’s departments. In order to easily identify information reported for external rankings (e.g. U.S. News & World Report’s Best Colleges and Top American Research Universities), these categories are color-coded in red or blue in the university and college ledgers.

- Student Profile contains additional student information, including the geographic origins of OSU students, enrollment trends, academic information and enrollment projections.

- Diversity Ledger is a five-year history that provides a more detailed breakdown of OSU’s students, faculty and staff.

Finding Your Purpose

Choosing Your Major

Choosing the right academic path isn’t always easy. There are many things to consider as you plan your academic major and career. Careers aren’t always directly linked to undergraduate degrees. Most degrees lead to a variety of career choices depending on how you want to focus your interests, knowledge and abilities. Through exploration, research, experiences and the help of your academic adviser and OSU Career Services consultants, you’ll find the right fit for you.

What degree path should you take?

If you have a specific career in mind, do research to learn what degree paths usually support it. If you need additional help choosing a specific career, visit Career Services at HireOSUGrads.com and click on the tabs for “Explore Careers” for more resources and an online career assessment.

1. Visit okstate.edu to find information about each degree area and read about the areas on which the degree focuses.

2. Read the course descriptions listed in the last section of the university catalog for your potential degrees. registrar.okstate.edu/university-catalog

3. Talk to people: Find others working in the field or in related areas, and ask questions about how they earned their positions and what they studied (or wish they had studied).

For your first enrollment, you don’t have to know exactly where you’re headed, but you should have a few options in mind. If you’re looking at multiple areas, choose the degree program with the least flexibility to start. For instance, if you’re equally interested in graphic design and marketing, you might begin in graphic design, where the first semester coursework must include Drawing I. Marketing is slightly more flexible and will allow for transfer of classes to its program should you change your major within your first or second year.

Your academic adviser will help you choose the most appropriate courses for your current academic and career focus.
Some program requirements provide flexibility for combinations of majors and minors without adding extra hours to your degree. OSU offers double majors, double degrees, degree minors and certificates of study. Listed below are the majors and options offered at OSU for the 2017-2018 academic year.

Differences Between High School and College

For most students, the idea that college will be different from high school doesn’t sink in until they’ve been on campus for a while and experienced the differences themselves. What may seem like obvious differences to parents may take a while for students to realize.

In high school:
- Attendance is required.
- Teachers keep close tabs on individual student performance on everything from homework to test scores.
- Studying may be light — an hour or two a night.
- Students’ lives are filled with highly structured activities.
- Teachers provide grade and deadline reminders.
- Class expectations are discussed in detail and revisited.
- The school is open and staffed during set times.
- Parents are often the check and balance, reminding students to study or encouraging behavioral adjustments.

In college:
- Professors may not require attendance as part of the grading scale.
- Instructors expect students to accept responsibility and produce more independent work.
- Studying is key — generally two hours for every hour in class.
- Involvement opportunities can be overwhelming.
- Students keep up with their own grades, as professors see grade monitoring as the student’s responsibility.
- The course syllabus is a contractual agreement.
- Instructors post specific office hours and expect students to adjust to them.
- Student-initiated actions regarding schoolwork assistance are expected.

Your academic adviser can help you find the right path for your career goals. Because your academic plan can include multiple majors, your academic adviser will help you manage course enrollment and minimize extra credit hours and best use your time at OSU. Be proactive and let your adviser know all your potential interest areas since they may affect the major you choose. Your adviser’s office is located in either your academic college or University College Advising. You’ll meet at least once each semester, depending on the level of guidance you’d like. Most students have one adviser per major area, so if you’re pursuing a double degree/major, minor or certificate program, an Honors College degree or pre-professional coursework, you may visit with multiple advisers to prepare for enrollment.

Your academic adviser:
- Assists with educational decision making, including clarification of career and educational goals, curriculum planning and course selection.
- Makes appropriate referrals to campus support services.
- Provides information about possible majors, minors and certificate programs.
- Prepares graduation checks and submits paperwork related to your degree plan.

Take the time to develop a relationship with your adviser. Your adviser can help you develop techniques for academic success and understand campus resources.

IT Tools

DOCUMENT STORAGE: You can store files in your Cowboy Mail Microsoft® Office 365™ and G Suite by Google Cloud accounts. Cowboy Mail has 1 TB of online file storage. G Suite has unlimited storage for Google app docs and 1 GB for non-Google docs. Get to your document storage by going to Cowboy Mail (cowboymail.okstate.edu), or Orange Mail (orangemail.okstate.edu). After signing in, click the application icon on the right side of the tool bar available in both systems.

EMAIL: Your official OSU email address will end in “@okstate.edu.” Official OSU communications will be sent to this address. In O-Key, you select which delivery system you want to deliver your OSU email: Cowboy Mail – a part of Microsoft® Office 365™, or Orange Mail – a part of G Suite by Google Cloud. Both systems have numerous productivity tools, all of which are available to you. See the section “OSU EMAIL – “@okstate.edu”” on page 13 for more email information.

ID CARD: Use your ID card for on-campus purchases, meal plan transactions, access to events, entering the Colvin Recreation Center, authorized door access, free off-campus bus transportation, and library checkouts. If you lose your ID card, you will be charged a fee for replacement. If your card is damaged through normal use, replacement is free with the return of the damaged card. Go to ID Services in 113 Math Sciences for assistance.

LABS (IT): Use any of the three physical IT labs on campus for individual or group work. You will have access to a number of desktop computers, printers, and scanners. Print at no charge. See labs.okstate.edu for details.
Computing Responsibilities

• Do not open links or attachments in emails that look suspicious.
• Keep your phone protected with a pin number.
• Learn to recognize phishing emails and report them to helpdesk@okstate.edu.

APPROPRIATE USE

All users are expected to utilize Oklahoma State University technology resources in a responsible manner.

If you see or know of any activity that does not comply with the appropriate use policy, contact us at abuse@okstate.edu.
Orange Key (O-KEY)

WHAT IS O-KEY?
Orange Key (O-Key) is the university’s online identity and access account management system. One of the main functions of O-Key is to provide a single secure user ID and password — your “credentials” for accessing university services.

WHEN DO I USE MY O-KEY CREDENTIALS?
Use your O-Key credentials to sign in to my.okstate.edu portal, wireless network, Software Distribution Center, the IT labs, Cowboy Mail, Orange Mail, remote printing and other services.

WHAT DO I DO WITH MY O-KEY ACCOUNT?
- Update your O-Key password: Your password will expire every 120 days to ensure security of your account. The O-Key administrator will send you a notification 30 days prior to the expiration date.
- Set email delivery preferences: Select your email delivery preference — either Orange Mail (G Suite by Google Cloud) or Cowboy Mail (Microsoft® Office 365™).
- Set up confidential contact: Provide contact information of a person to be contacted in case of emergency.
- Sign up for Campus Alerts: Campus Alerts is a system to inform you about threats or campus emergencies. Sign up to receive the alerts via a voice message and/or text.

OSU EMAIL – “@OKSTATE.EDU”
Your official OSU email address will end in “@okstate.edu”. All official university communications are sent to your @okstate.edu email address. Official email includes mail from New Student Orientation, Scholarships and Financial Aid, Bursar, Registrar, Residential Life, Information Technology, professors, advisers and others.

Select your email delivery preference when you set up your O-Key account. Choose between Orange Mail (delivered through G Suite by Google Cloud) and Cowboy Mail (delivered through Microsoft® Office 365™). While you will have access to the tools from both accounts you will use only one for your email delivery.

To sign in to Orange Mail, go to orangemail.okstate.edu using your O-Key credentials. To sign in to Cowboy Mail, go to cowboymail.okstate.edu. You can also set up your email on your phone and install a client on your computer for easier access.

The University Store

Student Union First Floor  |  405-744-5237
universitystore.okstate.edu

Owned and operated by Oklahoma State University, the University Store serves students, alumni and visitors. Through the revenue generated from the sale of textbooks, course-related materials, office supplies, spirit merchandise and computer equipment, the University Store supports almost 80 percent of the operating budget of the 630,000-square-foot Student Union and funds a substantial portion of the operational costs of Campus Life. The financial support of the University Store has helped keep student fees to a minimum. The University Store recognizes students have a lot of choices when selling and buying textbooks and realizes textbooks are expensive. The store is dedicated to making the textbook experience an easy process and is continually seeking ways to lower costs.
The Online Classroom (OC) is the online learning environment – Brightspace by D2L. Use the Online Classroom to get the course syllabus, content, class list, turn in assignments, discuss, take quizzes and check grades. Instructors may use this tool extensively, or just parts of it to support in-class instruction. Some instructors will forego using it, while others teach complete courses online.

GETTING STARTED:

SIGNING IN: Go to my.okstate.edu. Sign in using your O-Key credentials. Select the Online Classroom icon to open the application.

MY HOME: My Home is where you will access your courses either in the My Courses list or via “Select a course” in the topmost tool bar. Other topics and tools include Academic Integrity, Calendar and eBooks.

MY COURSES: You will find your courses organized by semester folders in the “My Courses” area. Open the folder by clicking the down arrow on the right side of the semester title. Click the course link to open the course home page. You may see a folder called Communities if you are a member of a community that uses BrightSpace by D2L tools.

INSIDE THE COURSE: The course home page presents you a course calendar, links to the various course components and “News.” Your instructor may use the news feature to bring your attention to class announcements.

CONTENT: The “Content” tab at the top is where you get access to the course materials. Examples: syllabus, lecture PowerPoint slides, additional articles to read and/or other features.

DISCUSSIONS: Your instructor may set up discussion questions for you and the class to discuss. Discussing a topic helps students to integrate the materials they are learning.

DROPBOX: Use “Dropbox” to turn in your assignments. When you click the Dropbox tab, you will see the assignment folders set up by your instructor. Submit an assignment by opening the correct folder, select the “Add a File” button. Then attach the assignment file from where you have it stored. Click Add. Comment if desired. Click Submit.

QUIZZES: Click the “Quizzes” tab to enter the quiz area. The cover page will show you the time allowed for taking the quiz and how many attempts are available. Allow sufficient time before the deadline to complete your work in case of computer or software failure.

TESTING: Another tool, Respondus, may be used with testing. Respondus is a browser that reduces incidents of cheating by locking access to anything else on the computer or internet. If the quiz or test is set up in Respondus, you will see instruction in red type to let you know what to do.

GRADES: The “Grades” tab opens the area that shows a breakdown of all graded items in the course organized into categories by your instructor. The grade summary may show how much each grade item contributes to the final grade. You may be able to see how you scored in comparison to the class. Your grades will not be visible to anyone else but you and the instructor.

Courses required of all students by the State Board of Regents form a common base of experience for all degrees. Each college may add to or require specific courses within the general education requirements for degree programs. Code letters found below appear with the course titles listed in the catalog and class schedules.

When you visit with your academic adviser, he or she will discuss the degree sheet (example found on page 19) for your chosen major.

The code letters listed below designate the general education categories:

- A = Analytical and Quantitative Thought
- H = Humanities
- S = Social and Behavioral Sciences
- N = Natural Sciences
- L = Laboratory Science
- I = International Dimension
- D = Diversity
- NW = Non-Western

General education course lists are maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs and updated on my.okstate.edu each semester. Because some majors require specific courses, it’s very important you discuss all degree areas you’re considering with your academic adviser. This will help you and your adviser choose the most appropriate courses for your interests and potential degrees and careers, reducing the chance you’ll need additional courses should you change majors.

The following lists a few sample lower division classes fulfilling each of the general education requirement areas on OSU degree sheets. Talk to your academic adviser to find courses that best fit your degree choice and work with plans for double majors, minors or additional programs of study. These courses are only a sample. For a complete list of general education (GenEd) classes offered, see your adviser or visit registrar.okstate.edu.

Required General Education Courses:

- English Composition I and II (ENGL 1113 and 1213)
- American History (HIST 1103)
- American Government (POLS 1113)
(A) ANALYTICAL AND QUANTITATIVE THOUGHT
Courses that ask you to critically analyze and solve problems using quantitative or logical methods receive (A) credit. One of your (A) courses must be a course with the MATH prefix.

(N) NATURAL SCIENCES
(L) LABORATORY SCIENCE

In Natural Sciences, students analyze the physical world to evaluate problems in biological and physical sciences. They also interpret results and solutions and understand consequences of human intervention in natural processes. Laboratory Science classes ask students to analyze scientific problems, formulate hypotheses, conduct experiments and interpret results. Some Natural Sciences courses carry the (L) designation, in which students receive lab credit.

Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB) Credit

The Office of Undergraduate Admissions website, admissions.okstate.edu, includes the requirements to receive academic credit for tests taken through high school advanced placement coursework. Since many AP scores are not finalized until the summer, students enrolling for coursework before they have their scores should spend time with the academic adviser developing enrollment choices if academic credit isn’t awarded. It’s your responsibility to keep your adviser updated about necessary changes in your course enrollment after scores are received.

Credit by Exam (CLEP)

For students with advanced subject knowledge, the CLEP exam can help save money and time. CLEP is designed to test your knowledge of college-level subjects, and passing scores earn credit for equivalent OSU courses. OSU does not charge tuition or fees for credit earned through examination. The only expense is the actual cost of the exam, which is approximately $110. To schedule an exam, contact University Assessment and Testing at 744-5958. For more information, visit uat.okstate.edu.

Foreign Language Placement Exams

Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures
206 Gundersen | 405-744-5658

Students who have completed two or more years (or equivalent) of credit in high school Spanish, French or German may consider taking a placement exam prior to enrollment to determine the best course placement. Only those who plan to enroll in a foreign language course the next semester should take the placement exam. Placement test scores determine the appropriate level of course work for enrollment. Placement results remain valid for two semesters (not including a summer semester) following the test date.

The test must be taken by the last date on which the course can be added during the semester in order for retroactive credit to apply. Students who complete the course into which they are placed with a grade of “A” or “B” are eligible to receive up to 10 credit hours for the coursework over which they placed.

After all grades have been posted for the semester, the foreign language adviser will verify the score and date of the placement exam and the grade earned in the placement course. If placed in 2713 (Spanish), 2713 (French) or 2723 (German) earning an “A” or “B,” the student will earn 10 hours of retroactive advanced standing credit (1115 and 1225). Placement results are reported to the student’s academic adviser.

Advanced standing credit in Latin, Greek, Japanese or Russian may also be considered. Students of these languages should see the Foreign Language Adviser for testing procedures.
Math Placement Exam (required)

OSU gives a Math Placement Exam to help ensure students have the best chance to succeed in math courses. Students who plan to take an OSU math course and don’t already have college-level math credit with a “C” or better (on a college transcript) in a prerequisite or required math course for their major must take the Math Placement Exam prior to orientation and enrollment. Every student should complete this exam sometime after May 1 and at least 48 hours prior to their scheduled orientation program.

NOTE: Beginning and intermediate algebra do not count as college-level math.

WHERE DO I TAKE THE EXAM?
The best testing environment is a controlled location beneficial to the student’s needs. However, OSU will allow an exception for the initial test based on ACT/SAT score.

• If your ACT math score is 19 or greater, or your SAT math score is 460 or greater (taken before March 2016 national test) or 530 (taken after March 2016 national test), you may take your initial exam from any computer with Internet access. If you’d like to retake the exam, additional attempts must be done in a proctored setting.

• If your ACT math score is below 19, your SAT math score is below 460 (taken before March 2016 national test) or 530 (taken after March 2016 national test), or your test scores aren’t on file with OSU, you must take the exam in a proctored setting. If the exam is not proctored, the test cannot count for placement purposes.

HOW CAN I BEST PREPARE TO TAKE THE EXAM?
Following your first completion of the placement test, you will unlock a set of learning modules to use if you plan to retest and would like to utilize the learning components to improve your knowledge and impact your score.

WHAT DOCUMENTATION OF MATH PLACEMENT IS NEEDED AT ORIENTATION/ENROLLMENT?
No documentation is needed. However, in the following cases, you’ll need the indicated paperwork to avoid math enrollment delays:

• If you take the Math Placement Exam within a day of your enrollment program, bring a copy of your score report in case your scores haven’t yet uploaded to the OSU system.

• If you’ve completed a college-level prerequisite or required course for your major with a “C” or better and haven’t already sent your official transcript to OSU, bring a copy of your transcript.

• If you’re currently enrolled in a college-level prerequisite or required math course for your major, bring a printout of your academic schedule. After you finish the course, send official transcripts to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at least one week prior to the start of class.

To access the OSU Math Placement Exam, visit uat.okstate.edu/placemathexam. If you have any questions or concerns, contact University Assessment and Testing at 405-744-5958.

In any academic setting, performance in coursework must be evaluated before you can move on to the next level. The quality of your academic performance will be indicated by some of the following letter grades. For a complete list of all grading options, consult the Office of the Registrar.

- "A" Excellent
- "B" Good
- "C" Average
- "D" Below average
- "F" Failure
- "F!" (F shriek) indicates the student failed due to a violation of academic integrity (see the Academic Integrity Policy). Students may remove the first "I" (though not the "F") from their transcripts by completing an academic integrity educational program (see the Academic Integrity section on page 29).
- "I" is given when a student satisfactorily completes the majority of the course work with an average of "D" or better but has been unavoidably prevented from completing the remaining work in the course.
- "P" is earned for passing work in OSU courses approved for pass/no-pass and pass/fail grading systems. Both credit hours and grade points are ignored in calculating grade-point averages.
- "NP" is earned for unsatisfactory work (including that evaluated as "D") in courses on the pass/no-pass and pass/fail grading systems.
- "S" or "U" is given for satisfactory (equivalent to a "C" or better) or unsatisfactory work in remedial courses in English, mathematics, reading and science.
- "W" indicates a dropped course.

Retention Standards

Continuing at OSU requires maintaining academic performance levels. Students who don’t maintain satisfactory progress toward their academic objectives as indicated below will be placed on probation for the following semester. During academic probation, students must raise their overall GPA to the appropriate level to remove the probation status or receive at least a 2.0 semester GPA to continue the following semester.

Students with 30 credit hours and a GPA between 1.7 and 2.0, considered “Academic Notice,” should speak with their academic adviser for help.

Honor Roll

Full-time undergraduate students who complete at least 12 earned OSU credit hours during a fall or spring semester with a current term semester (not overall) grade-point average of 4.00 (i.e., all "A’s") are placed on the President’s List of Distinguished Students. Grades earned through correspondence may not be included in meeting the minimum enrollment required for an honor roll. Students who have completed their courses under the same requirements as outlined above, with a grade-point average of 3.50 or higher and no grade below "C", are placed on the Dean's List of Distinguished Students. (See also: Academic Regulation 6.4 Grade-point Average Calculations.)
OSU students are expected to follow the policies and guidelines written in the Student Code of Conduct. OSU takes these codes and policies very seriously. Students are required to understand the code and the Academic Integrity Policy. Visit studentconduct.okstate.edu and academicintegrity.okstate.edu to learn more.

The following are excerpts from the Academic Integrity Policy:

All members of the Oklahoma State University community are entrusted with academic integrity, which encompasses the fundamental values of honesty, trust, respect, fairness and responsibility. Students are expected to:

- Understand and uphold the academic integrity guidelines established by the university and their instructors.
- Present their own work for evaluation by their instructors.
- Appropriately cite the words and ideas of others.
- Protect their work from misuse.
- Accept responsibility for their actions.
- Treat instructors and members of the Academic Integrity Panel with respect when violations of academic integrity are examined or appealed and trust that instructors and the Academic Integrity Panel will enforce policy and procedures.

Students are urged to sign the OSU Commitment to Academic Integrity statement and inform other students or notify instructors when they observe violations of academic integrity.

Instructors are expected to:

- Understand and uphold academic integrity policy and procedures and have the authority to set reasonable standards in their classes within the guidelines provided.
- Clearly discuss and communicate information about academic integrity to students.
- Reduce opportunities for dishonesty through vigilant exam security and proctoring, and give clear instructions for homework and projects.
- Fairly and consistently evaluate students and award credit based on professionally judged academic performance established by the instructor.
- Trust students to follow the academic integrity policy until the instructor has sufficient information to substantiate a violation, then confront students with information about the alleged violation, follow the procedures and report violations.
- Be fair in evaluating information that may indicate a student has violated academic integrity.
- Assure that teaching assistants or adjunct instructors who work under their direction understand and uphold academic integrity policy and procedures.
- Treat students and members of the Academic Integrity Panel with respect when violations of academic integrity are examined or appealed.
- Trust members of the Academic Integrity Panel to enforce policy and procedures when violations are appealed.

Behaviors that violate the fundamental values of academic integrity may include but are not limited to:

- Unauthorized collaboration.
- Plagiarism.
- Multiple submissions.
- Cheating on exams.
- Fabricating information.
- Helping another person cheat.
- Unauthorized advance access to exams.

Consequences:

These behaviors may subject the student to disciplinary action including receiving a failing grade on an assignment, exam or course, receiving notation of a violation of academic integrity on their transcript and suspension from the university. Serious violations discovered after a student graduates may lead to revocation of a degree. These behaviors are described in detail in the Academic Integrity Guidelines. The following sanctions are applied based on the seriousness of the violation:

a. Level one sanction — grade of “zero” or “F” for the assignment or examination with violations.

b. Level two sanction — grade of “F!” for the course. The transcript will indicate that a grade of “F!” signifies the student failed the course because of an alleged violation of academic integrity.

c. Level three sanction — recommend suspension from the university.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) protects the privacy of student educational records. The law applies to all schools that receive U.S. Department of Education funding. FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their student’s education records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she reaches the age of 18 or attends a school beyond the high school level.

The quickest, easiest way for parents to receive information about their student’s grades, financial statements or other student information is for the student to provide it. Students can look up information online and provide a copy to their parents. Students may also set up a guest login to the Office of the Bursar’s website for parents to access billing information at bursar.okstate.edu.

If a parent is unable to obtain academic information directly from the student or has a reason to doubt the information received, direct access to educational records may be obtained if the student completes a parental access form, available in the Office of the Registrar. This form must be completed by the student in an environment that is not coercive. Parents of a dependent student may gain access to education records by producing the most current copy of Internal Revenue Form 1040 to the Office of the Registrar. If parental access has been granted, educational records may be viewed in person once an appointment has been arranged through the Office of the Registrar. We welcome the opportunity to discuss this with you if you have any questions.

Extensive information regarding FERPA rules at OSU is located under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act link at registrar.okstate.edu.

At the elementary and secondary school level, FERPA gives parents the right to access education records. When a student turns 18 or attends an institution of postsecondary education, FERPA rights transfer from parent to the student. At the postsecondary level, parents have no expected rights to view their child’s education records.

The Honors College

Integrating honors coursework into your degree program allows for more academic opportunities at OSU. Students often choose to enhance their degree with honors coursework due to:

- SMALL CLASS SIZE: Classes are typically 20-22 students, and individually tailored honors courses are often available.
- A WIDE RANGE OF HONORS COURSES: The Honors College usually offers 60 to 70 honors courses each fall and spring semester.
- TOP TEACHING FACULTY: Honors professors are experienced members of the OSU teaching faculty known for excellence in the classroom and in their academic fields.
- TRANSCRIPT AND DIPLOMA DISTINCTIONS: Honors course credit is indicated on transcripts. Special transcript entries are recorded for the General Honors Award, Departmental or College Honors Award, the Honors College Degree, and the Honors College Degree with International Study Emphasis. Students earning the Honors College Degree with or without International Study Emphasis receive a special diploma recognizing these distinctions.
- HONORS ADVISING: Honors advisers provide additional attention to your academic needs and interests. All of the advisers have earned honors degrees and have personal experience as honors students.
- HONORS EVENTS: Enjoy events including picnics, lectures, special presentations and field trips. Special events are also scheduled for students living in honors housing.
- BENEFITS: Active Honors College students have access to The Honors College study lounge and computer lab in historic Old Central, receive priority enrollment, enjoy extended library checkout privileges, and have the option to live in honors housing if space is available.

New freshmen are considered for admission into The Honors College on the basis of high school grade-point average (usually 3.75 or higher), standardized test scores (usually an ACT composite score of 27 or higher or an SAT score [critical reading and math only] of 1220 or higher or 1280 or higher for tests taken after the March 2016 national test), and an optional essay. Weighted certified high school grade-point averages may be used. Entering freshmen who fall just short of these requirements may submit a written petition for consideration. New freshmen must earn at least a 3.2 grade-point average in their first semester to maintain Honors College eligibility for the next semester. Continuing students are eligible based on the following OSU and cumulative GPAs:

- Fewer than 60 credit hours: 3.3 OSU and cumulative grade-point averages.
- 60-93 credit hours: 3.4 OSU and cumulative grade-point averages.
- 94 or more credit hours: 3.5 OSU and cumulative grade-point averages.
The Henry Bellmon Office of

S whlar Development & Undergraduate Research

334 Student Union  |  405-744-7313
schdev@okstate.edu  |  scholardevelopment.okstate.edu

The Office of Scholar Development & Undergraduate Research refines top students’ academic skills through research opportunities, individual mentoring and special courses. There are many resources available to help with prestigious national scholarship competitions (including Rhodes, Marshall, Truman, Goldwater and Udall). The office monitors student progress, provides important information, gives support and plans courses and activities that can lead to success. Interested students can contact the office to ask about opportunities and strategies related to high-level undergraduate research, national scholarships, Cambridge Scholars and honor societies of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Eta Sigma.

In addition, you can further research study and employment goals while enjoying unique experiences through Scholar Development and related programs. The following are examples of programs and opportunities for students involved in Scholar Development:

- WENTZ PROJECTS AND SCHOLARSHIPS: This is an opportunity for outstanding undergraduates to plan and perform high-level research under the direction of a faculty member ($4,500 each). There are also traditional awards based on academic excellence and well-rounded campus activities ($2,750 each).

- FRESHMAN RESEARCH: This unique program provides an opportunity for bright, ambitious incoming OSU freshmen to elevate their chances early, including a one-semester orientation to research and a one-semester research experience with a faculty mentor. A stipend is included for those chosen.

- SCHOLAR DEVELOPMENT has its own program for study in the United Kingdom every July, where top students travel with OSU’s best faculty for interesting courses on a variety of topics (scholarships cover nearly half or more of the total costs).

- THE OSU JOURNAL OF UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH is an opportunity for students to share their academic accomplishments. The journal consists of a faculty editorial board for selective print and digital publication, which reviews students’ articles.
You can check the status of your financial aid application, review and accept awards, and check for disbursement of aid (credit to bursar account) on the same website you use for enrollment. To access OSU’s Student Self-Service system, go to my.okstate.edu and sign in using your OSU O-Key email address and password.

Once you login to the portal, you’ll be able to navigate to the student and financial aid information in Self-Service. You’ll find key aid information in the system, depending on what you have completed in the application process. When you first select any of the following options, you’ll be asked to select the award year; use the drop-down menu to select the 2017-2018 Award Year.

- FINANCIAL AID STATUS: You will see a summary of your current status, with links to additional information. This is a good place to check each time you login to the system, as it gives you a quick overview of your status.

- ELIGIBILITY: The Student Requirements tab on this page will display all previously satisfied requirements, as well as any unsatisfied requirements, along with a status notation for each requirement. The requirement title will link to any necessary form or information. The Hold and Academic Progress tabs on this page will display other eligibility information.

- AWARD: You can see all awards you’ve been offered and whether or not they have been accepted. This information is displayed in an annual total and then is broken out by semester. Some grant awards are already accepted for you at the time they are awarded, but you’ll need to accept the Terms and Conditions and then accept or decline most other awards. You can find specific instructions for accepting/declining awards at financialaid.okstate.edu/2017-2018-information-sheets.

Be sure to review the Resources/Additional Information tab on this page to tell us about any non-OSU awards and to tell the OSU Bursar’s Office about how you want any federal, Title IV aid to be credited to your OSU account. It’s a good idea to always check the Special Messages tab on a regular basis to review any new information.
Have you Received Additional Awards?
If you’ve been notified of an award from an OSU Office and it isn’t showing on your OSU Self-Service Award page, contact the awarding office. If you know of an award from a non-OSU source (scholarship agency, tribal scholarship, etc.), please let the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid know of your award by going to the Resources/Additional Information tab on the Award page.

First Disbursement of Financial Assistance
Most scholarships, grants and loans will appear as credits on student bursar accounts during the first week of classes. Review the Office of the Bursar’s section for information about refunds of credit balances once charges have been paid.

Changes in Your Enrollment Plans, Awards or Financial Circumstances
Eligibility for aid is based in part on your costs, expected family contribution from the FAFSA, other sources of financial aid you receive and your enrollment plans. Changes to any of these factors after your original award is made may require an adjustment to your eligibility. In some cases, changes may require repayment of some or all federal funds. Students and parents should review the information about adjustments to financial aid at financialaid.okstate.edu/policies/aid-adjust.

Continued Eligibility for Financial Aid
Recipients of federal/state aid must meet the requirements of the OSU Financial Aid Policy on Satisfactory Academic Progress to remain eligible for aid, including federal student and parent loans. A link to the policy is included in the award email, in the award Terms and Conditions students review/accept on my.okstate.edu and at financialaid.okstate.edu/policies/sap. Scholarship recipients must meet the requirements of each individual award, as outlined in the award notice for each scholarship.

Other Policies of Importance
You should review the other important policies that relate to financial aid eligibility, available at financialaid.okstate.edu/policies.

Requirements to Receive First Disbursement of Student or Parent Loans at OSU
If you’re offered and accept a student or parent loan at OSU, you’ll need to complete a few additional steps before the first disbursement of your loan(s) can be credited to your bursar account.

- SUBSIDIZED/UNSUBSIDIZED LOAN ENTRANCE COUNSELING (STUDENTS): You must complete one-time Loan Entrance Counseling prior to the first disbursement of your loan. To complete the counseling online, which takes about 20 minutes, go to studentloans.gov. You’ll need the FSAID you used to sign the FAFSA to access the loan counseling. OSU will be automatically notified a few days after you complete the session.

- SUBSIDIZED/UNSUBSIDIZED LOAN PROMISSORY NOTE (STUDENTS): Students can log in at studentloans.gov (using the student FSAID they used to complete the FAFSA) and sign the Subsidized/Unsubsidized Master Promissory Note (MPN) once they see the request for the MPN on the OSU Student Self-Service (my.okstate.edu) Eligibility page.

- PROMISSORY NOTE (PARENTS): Parent (PLUS) Loan borrowers can request their parent loan and sign the Parent loan MPN at studentloans.gov, using the FSAID they used to sign the FAFSA.

- PERKINS LOAN RECIPIENTS: Funding is limited, so not every student is eligible for a Perkins Loan. The Office of the Bursar sends Perkins promissory note information to recipients later in the summer.

Financial Aid for Future Years
Continuing OSU undergraduates should file the next year’s FAFSA starting in October each year (so new students starting fall 2017 or spring 2018 should complete the 2018-2019 FAFSA in October 2017). Some scholarships for continuing students are based on a combination of academic excellence and financial need, so all students are encouraged to complete the FAFSA every year.

The Office of Scholarships & Financial Aid typically awards scholarships in spring for the upcoming academic year and will notify recipients at their OSU email address. To be considered for these scholarship programs you must be classified as a sophomore (have successfully completed at least 28 hours by the end of the spring semester), junior or senior and be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident. Be sure to check with your college and academic department during the fall semester to ask about scholarships they may offer to continuing undergraduates. The application deadlines for these college and departmental awards vary by college.
“Bursar” is a term unique to higher education and means “keeper of the purse.” The Office of the Bursar bills and collects tuition, fees, campus housing and other University related charges. All federal and campus-based financial aid funds are disbursed to students’ bursar accounts and refunds are issued for any overpayments.

Billing Statement

The Office of the Bursar creates a monthly electronic billing statement on the last business day of each month detailing charges and payments that occurred during the month on a semester timeframe. A billing email notification is sent to the student’s University email address at the beginning of each month when the billing statement is available to view online. An authorized user may be set up through OSU’s Student Self-Service at my.okstate.edu using your O-Key and password then clicking OSU Stillwater/Tulsa Bursar Account under Quick Links, if someone other than the student should receive billing notifications. Payment is due at the time charges are billed and considered past due after the 15th of the month. A 1.5 percent finance charge will be assessed to an account for any unpaid billed balance. It’s the student’s responsibility to verify that university administered scholarships and waivers, as well as external scholarships, have been credited to their bursar account. Students can view their billing statement and semester account activity, set up authorized user and pay online via my.okstate.edu clicking on OSU Stillwater/Tulsa Bursar Account under Quick Links. Authorized user login is located through the bursar website at bursar.okstate.edu.

Payment Plan

In an effort to help our students in meeting financial obligations, we offer a semester-based payment plan as an alternative to the traditional lump-sum payment method. This plan provides an opportunity for families (authorized users) and students to pay university-billed expenses in regular monthly installments. No finance charges or enrollment holds are associated with the payment plan if payments are made as promised. The deadline to enroll in the fall plan is September 15th; February 15th is the deadline for the spring plan. Summer enrollment is ineligible for the plan.

The payment plan is available online each semester. The student can sign up online via my.okstate.edu clicking on OSU Stillwater/Tulsa Bursar Account under Quick Links. It’s important to designate a parent under the authorized user tab by entering their email address for access to the payment plan as well as billing statements. There is a $25 semester-based nonrefundable fee to participate. If you have questions, please email brpop@okstate.edu.

Please note: Payment plan participants receive installment payment due alerts in separate emails from the regular monthly billing notifications. The monthly billing notification informs payment plan participants of the total monthly billing and monthly installment amount for informational purposes.

Refunds – Direct Deposit of Credit Balances

All financial aid is applied toward the student’s bursar account balance and a refund (if any) is calculated after taking into account semester charges on the account at the time of the refund program calculation. Bursar account credits resulting from a credit card payment are refunded back to the credit card, not the student.

Title IV financial aid is federally funded aid such as Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG), Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loans, and Federal Parent Direct Loan. The US Department of Education require OSU to obtain authorization to pay all charges on your bursar account for the current semester with Title IV financial aid with question #1 online under the financial aid tab. Title IV Authorization forms are also available online at bursar.okstate.edu under forms for parent.

To grant permission:

- Login to my.okstate.edu
- Click Self Service
- Click Financial Aid tab
- Award
- Award for Aid Year (select aid year)
- Resources/Additional Information

If you decline or do not accept (question #1), then Title IV aid will only pay allowable charges (current tuition, fees, room and board (if contracted with OSU), and books. Other current semester charges such as parking permits, library fines, student store, athletic all sports tickets, and health charges will remain unpaid which could result in having an enrollment hold if not paid by the bill due date, even if you have a credit balance on your account after authorized charges have been paid. If you choose not to provide authorization to pay non-educational charges with your federal financial aid, you could receive a refund and still owe a balance on your student account for non-educational charges.

Accept question #2, if you desire to allow OSU to apply Title IV financial aid to previous year institutional charges for all charges on your student account for the previous and current academic year charges. Beginning July 1, 2008, the amount of the Title IV financial aid that can be used to pay prior academic year charges is limited to a total of not more than $200. If you decline, Title IV aid will only pay current academic year charges. Summer term charges are considered prior academic year charges in the Fall term. If you have a balance on your account after your current year charges are paid, you will have to pay any previous academic year charges with other funds or risk having an enrollment hold.
You do not have to authorize again once you are a student at OSU. It is recommended all students who have applied for financial aid accept or decline, so at some point in the future, if you do receive Title IV financial aid, this authorization will already have been given.

The Office of the Bursar encourages using direct deposit as the most secure and quickest method to receive bursar account refunds and stipends. Direct deposit refunds are scheduled every working day and should be deposited into your bank account within two to three business days, depending on the bank. Students are responsible for verifying funds are available in their account before spending the funds. Students are notified via email when a direct deposit refund or stipend occurs. If students don’t choose to participate in the direct deposit program, the refund is issued by check. Refund checks are mailed to the mailing address listed on the student’s bursar account approximately ten business days after the credit balance becomes effective. Often charges (bookstore and other miscellaneous charges) are not posted to the account before a refund is processed. Students are responsible for paying these subsequent charges as they appear on their monthly billing statements. The Office of the Bursar cannot cash these university-generated refund checks, nor can we cash personal checks.

Signing up for direct deposit is quick and easy. To add/manage banking information and receive deposits electronically, do the following:

- Login to my.okstate.edu
- Click OSU Stillwater/Tulsa Bursar Account under Quick Links
- Select “eRefunds” tab (next to eStatements)
- Proceed to “Setup an Account” by adding banking information

Additional Bursar Information

Financial counseling is available to answer questions concerning account balances. It’s important to visit with our office early in the semester for payment options to avoid delays in future enrollment and continuation of charging privileges on campus. The financial counselor is available weekdays from 8:30 – 11:30 am and 1:30 – 4:30 pm in 113 Student Union to assist with financial matters regarding a bursar account.

Some third parties providing scholarships and/or tuition funds require an invoice mailed directly from the Office of the Bursar. Our office assists with questions concerning third-party billing to a student’s sponsor (for example, the Bureau of Indian Affairs or a parent’s place of employment, etc.) and non-OSU scholarship checks from outside agencies or schools (such as the Lions Club, Rotary Club, etc.). Scholarships are posted in the semester received. Please complete the form on our website at bursar.okstate.edu under forms (on the left side) to authorize us to bill a third-party sponsor.

Privacy Regulations – Family Educational Rights to Privacy Act (FERPA)

Federal law limits the information the university may provide regarding OSU students. The bursar account is in the student’s name, and information regarding their account may only be issued directly to the student. However, students can give their parents access to view monthly billing statements, account activity, payment plan, and make online payments by setting them up as an authorized user via my.okstate.edu.

Students can also grant parents access to university information by adding them as a Proxy at my.okstate.edu clicking Self Service. Click on Proxy Access tab to enter parent information and checking the first box “University Officials may discuss my education records with Proxy….”.

TIPS:
- Carefully read everything you receive from the Office of the Bursar, which includes updating addresses, phone numbers and ensuring enough space to receive emails.
- Make sure to check your junk mail for OSU messages.
- Be aware of deadlines and university policies, such as payment due dates.
- Read the Financial Responsibility Contract to understand your obligations (provided in your booklet and on the bursar website).
- Sign up for direct deposit.
- Set up Payment Plan before deadline, if needed.
- Complete the FAFSA every October 1.
- Don’t wait until enrollment date to resolve holds.
Online Parent and Student Guide

A parent and student guide link is available on the bursar’s home page to better understand policy and processes. Topics include:

- How to obtain information about your student account.
- Email notifications, billing statements, and finance charges.
- Tuition and required fees.
- OSU Payment Plan.
- Special billing to third-parties.
- Refund deadlines of tuition/fees when dropping classes.
- How to update your address information.
- Steps to take before leaving OSU.
- Bursar Optional Charging Policy.
- Student Financial Responsibility Contract.
- Budgeting for college expenses.
- Budget worksheet.

When students enroll at Oklahoma State University, they agree to pay all charges on their account when due. They also acknowledge that failure to make the required payment by the due date will result in the possibility of added finance charges, loss of on-campus charging privileges, inability to enroll in future semesters, and/or withholding academic transcript or diploma. If students leave OSU with a balance, they should contact the Office of the Bursar to make payment arrangements. Any charges incurred by the university in an effort to collect the delinquent accounts will be assessed to and will be the responsibility of the account holder. An account holder will reimburse the University the fees of any collection agency, which may be based on a percentage of the debt (at a maximum of 33.3%). Delinquent account information is disclosed to credit reporting agencies, which could endanger the student’s credit rating on a local and national level. See the Financial Responsibility Contract located on the bursar website and for entire contract understanding.

Tuition & Fees

The Oklahoma A&M Board of Regents determine official tuition and fee rates during the summer prior to the beginning of the fall 2017 semester. Your actual costs will vary according to your class schedule. Federal regulations require the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid to include tuition/fees, room/board (average of on-campus and off-campus costs), books/supplies, transportation and other miscellaneous costs into the Students Cost of Education when determining eligibility for financial aid. You may spend more or less than these average estimates.

It is important to carefully consider the total financing of your education from the entering term to degree completion. If financial help is needed, fill out the necessary applications for financial assistance well in advance of enrollment. Please keep in mind the Parent Loan is based on credit approval and not guaranteed funds. To be considered as enrolled hours for purpose of financial aid, your courses must count toward your degree.

These budgets are used to determine eligibility for undergraduates enrolled at least half-time (6 hours) per semester. Some types of assistance, (e.g. Pell Grant and Oklahoma’s Promise/OHLAP) must be adjusted if enrollment is less than full-time (12 hours). To request summer financial aid considerations, you must complete the summer request online through the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid website. Budgets for students enrolled in fewer than six hours would include only tuition, fees, books, and supplies.

Financial Responsibility

Oklahoma State University corresponds electronically with account holders using the O-Key University email address. Students are responsible for regularly reading important information sent to their O-Key email accounts and for taking action on any important correspondence sent to those address and adequate email space is available to ensure correspondence is received.

To view the full list of student financial responsibilities, go to bursar.okstate.edu/financial-responsibility.
Housing and Residential Life

More than 6,000 students call the OSU campus home. At OSU, the residence halls are more than just places to sleep and eat. They are exciting, active communities that promote personal and academic well-being. Twenty-six residence halls, more than 30 dining options and seven family-first apartment neighborhoods fit every need and budget. From intramural sports teams to study sessions to hall government meetings, the residences offer plenty of activities in which to get involved.

Applying for Housing

If you applied early, you may have already selected your room for the coming year. Congratulations — you’ve completed the housing process. If you’ve applied for housing and haven’t selected your room, this just means your name hasn’t come to the top of our system yet, but you’ll be getting an email to your Oklahoma State email account soon. The email will include your timeslot for logging in to the residential life reservation system to pick your room, hall and roommate for the coming year. If you haven’t applied for housing, do so today. You can sign up from any computer by going to reslife.okstate.edu or stop by the Residential Life office in Iba Hall.

Moving In

Residence hall move-in begins on Wednesday, Aug. 16. Talk to your roommate(s) as you prepare to move to OSU. Discuss who is bringing what, so you can all lighten your loads. Who really needs three microwaves? If you live within a few hours of campus, you might consider bringing your personal items in shifts. Do you really need all of your sweatshirts in August? When you arrive on move-in day, there will be campus volunteers to assist in unloading your car and helping you to the halls. There will be shopping carts and dollies to help, but you might want to bring your own as supplies are limited. A packing checklist is available at reslife.okstate.edu. Remember, there are thousands of students, family members and friends on campus during the move-in period so parking might be limited. You may not be able to park close to your residence hall, and it will be hot, so be sure to wear comfortable clothes and shoes. Pack your patience! The elevators do come back down … eventually!

Parking and Transit Services

PARKING ON CAMPUS: Any motor vehicle parked on university property on weekdays between 5 a.m. and 5 p.m. must display a valid OSU parking permit. The color and type of permit indicate where the vehicle may be parked. Students must be assigned to a residence hall before a permit can be purchased.

Bicycle registration is also required. Permits are free and can be obtained from Parking and Transit Services or online. Bicycles must be parked only at approved bicycle racks. Student who don’t have a bicycle may rent one through the OrangeRide program.

TRANSIT SERVICES: The BUS is the campus and community transit service operated by the Department of Parking and Transportation Services. The BUS offers fixed route transit and on-demand paratransit service year-round. Bus transportation is available from 6:30 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. Monday through Friday during the school year and 6:30 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. during the summer. Route and time information are available at the Parking and Transit Services office or online at transit.okstate.edu.

THE BUS also offers an online bus tracking system at thebus.okstate.edu where you can select a route and identify where the buses are in relation to your location, available on your desktop and mobile device (Android and iPhone apps).

TULSA SHUTTLE: BOB, OSU’s Big Orange Bus, is a shuttle service between the Stillwater and Tulsa campuses. There are nine trips daily from each campus Monday - Thursday; seven trips on Friday. It is open to current students, staff and faculty and is now open to the public. The cost is $7.50 one way for students; and $13 one way for faculty/staff and public. Reservations can be made online at shuttle.okstate.edu by logging in with your OKEY account or stop by the Shuttle office in Stillwater at 1006 W. Hall of Fame, at the corner of Hall of Fame and Monroe, Monday - Friday 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., or Tulsa at the North Hall Information Center, Monday - Thursday from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and Friday from 7:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. In Stillwater, call 405-744-7100 or in Tulsa call 918-594-8332. Leadership requires students to be actively engaged in creative problem-solving in and out of the classroom. Learning how to plan activities and working with peers to develop and communicate ideas with enthusiasm are skills that you’ll use after graduation. A wide range of student organizations and leadership coursework are available for credit. With more than 400 student organizations on the OSU campus, leaders are born and real-world experience is gained here.

Oklahoma State University’s Center for Ethical Leadership is dedicated to preparing individuals to take on the challenges and responsibilities of leadership in a global society. Through the center, students develop skills, knowledge and abilities to make productive, beneficial choices about their lives as well as contribute to society. The center’s leadership program enriches the student leadership experience through a variety of programs and services including:

- Formal curricular and extension courses.
- A renowned speaker series.
- Seminars.
- Workshops.
- Service-learning opportunities.
- Retreats.

Students are encouraged to take advantage of meaningful service-learning activities and volunteer on and off campus through nonprofit agencies and community service days. Since its creation in 1984, the Service-Learning Volunteer Center has enriched the lives of our community members through intergenerational and interpretive service projects. With approximately 100,000 hours of community service, we continue to set and reach new goals. The center works in three major areas: volunteerism, service learning and civic engagement.

- VOLUNTEERISM — Getting involved in on- and off-campus community service projects is a tradition at Oklahoma State University. The Volunteer Center’s goal is to introduce volunteerism and bring together students within the Stillwater community. Since the Volunteer Center’s founding, thousands of civic-minded students, staff and faculty have taken the first step in solving problems by offering their talents through working with community nonprofit agencies, public schools and medical service organizations.

- SERVICE LEARNING — OSU actively supports service learning through a wide range of activities, including engaged experiences, service learning (curricular and co-curricular) and internships.

- CIVIC ENGAGEMENT — The general definition of civic engagement is individual and collective actions designed to identify and address issues of public concern. Civic engagement includes individual volunteer work to organizational involvement to elected participation. It can include efforts to directly address an issue, working with others in a community to solve a problem or interacting with the institutions of representative democracy.

CampusLink

campuslink.okstate.edu

OSU Greek life is comprised of members of fraternities and sororities on the OSU campus. Today, more than 4,400 students make up the community, which consists of four governing councils: the Interfraternity Council (IFC), the Multicultural Greek Council (MGC), National PanHellenic Council (NPHC) and Panhellenic Council. Each council has a different procedure for joining. We are proud to have a thriving system with numerous diverse, nationally recognized fraternities and sororities represented. Greek Life offers a unique opportunity to have a balanced college life with a focus on academic excellence, brotherhood/sisterhood, community service and responsible social interaction.

The Oklahoma State University Student Government Association strives to serve OSU students. It’s our goal to make your voice heard on campus. SGA partners with faculty, staff and the Board of Regents to ensure that OSU is constantly improving. Composed of three branches — the executive branch, student Senate and supreme court — SGA sponsors events to help the school and the student body. The best way to have your voice heard is to begin with student government. SGA takes student concerns to the highest levels on your behalf.

The Non-Traditional Student Organization is a group of students dedicated to helping fellow non-traditional students succeed at OSU. The NTSO holds monthly meetings and a variety of activities for non-traditional students and their families. Each year, the group sponsors the Cowboy Angel Tree to provide Christmas gifts to underprivileged children in Stillwater. They continue to provide information to the administration regarding the need for day care on the OSU campus. NTOS officers are proud to advocate for nontraditional students in general or, if a specific issue arises, for a student.

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans encourage consuming more fruits, vegetables, whole grains and low-fat dairy products or equivalent products that have less than 30 percent of their calories from fat. Lean, low-fat or fat-free meats are recommended, and saturated fats and trans fats should be limited. Food selections should contain little added sugars or caloric sweeteners. Remember that portion sizes play an important role in drinks, meals and especially salad dressings.
Meal Plans
301 Student Union | 405-744-4920
dining@okstate.edu | dining.okstate.edu

Meal plans were designed with student input. Students purchase a particular plan, and each time they eat in a dining option, an amount is deducted from their balance. In the all-you-care-to-eat options, the amount deducted depends on the meal plan. In the a la carte options, the exact amount spent will be deducted from the meal plan. OSU’s meal plans are among the most flexible in the nation, allowing you to decide where, when and how often you want to eat. All of the plan amounts include expanded carryover programs and more buying power.

- OSU boasts one of the most flexible meal plan systems in the country.
- The OSU meal plan can be used in any campus dining option.
- The meal plans are based on a declining dollars system.
- Students purchase a particular plan, and each time they eat in a dining option, a dollar amount is deducted from their balance.
- In the all-you-care-to-eat options, the amount charged depends on the student’s meal plan.
- In the a la carte options, items are charged individually.
- Meal plan holders can eat in any of the dining facilities regardless of where they live.

Fees and Charges
University Health Services is partially funded by student fees and charges for services. Any student enrolled in at least one credit hour is eligible for services at UHS. Charges for services rendered can include a per-visit charge to see a physician, have lab work done, get an X-ray or a prescription. Payment may be made using cash, check or bursar charge. The insurance office can assist with filing claims for insurance reimbursement. You’re responsible for deductibles, co-pays and nonallowed charges as defined by your insurance plan. University Health Services is neither a Medicare nor a Medicaid provider.

Health History and Immunization
The university requires new students to provide health and immunization information concerning the following:

- All students born after 1957 are required to provide documentation of vaccinations for measles, mumps and rubella or laboratory evidence of antibodies that indicate sufficient immunity. All new students are required to have completed hepatitis B series. The Immunization and Health Form at uhs.okstate.edu/forms describes these requirements fully. To submit immunization records online, go to shots.okstate.edu.

- The state of Oklahoma has enacted an immunization requirement for college and university students who live in campus housing. All new students (including transfer and graduate students) must comply with Section 3243 of Oklahoma Statutes Title 70, which requires that students who live in campus housing comply with one of the following options:
  - Be immunized for meningococcal disease.
  - After having reviewed information about meningitis provided by OSU, decline the vaccination.

The state of Oklahoma requires all students living in Residential Life housing to indicate whether they have been immunized for meningococcal disease as a regulation of the housing contract.

ucs.okstate.edu/counseling

Students are often in the middle of several transitions. These can be stressful and overwhelming at times. While many people can handle these stresses on their own, the good news is help is available, if needed. Our highly trained staff consists of licensed and licensed-eligible professional counselors, psychologists, psychiatric staff and graduate-level counseling interns. Students are provided a safe, nonjudgmental, private environment during counseling where they may speak openly to address their needs. The Student Counseling Center at OSU helps students with a range of issues including:

- Academic concerns.
- Anger.
- Anxiety.
- Communication skills.
- Depression.
- Eating/weight issues.
- Family concerns.
- Grief.
- Homesickness.
- Motivation/procrastination.
- Medication management.
- Psychiatry.
- Relationship/roommate issues.
- Self-esteem.
- Sexual orientation.
- Stresses.

The Student Counseling Center is a safe zone to address any concern. If a student requires a higher level of care than we can provide, we’ll work with them to find alternate resources for care. Student Counseling Center resources include individual, couple and group counseling, crisis intervention and psychiatric services as well as free and anonymous online screenings. Students are eligible for up to 12 counseling sessions per year, and the first five sessions are free. After that, there is a $10 charge for individual sessions and a $15 charge for couple counseling sessions. Group counseling sessions are free and psychiatric services have additional fees. Fee waivers and fee reductions are available for those who qualify. Services are confidential with some exceptions. An after-hours counselor is available for emergencies through the OSU Police Department (405-744-6523).
Reboot Center
320W Student Union  |  405-744-6434
ucs.okstate.edu/reboot

The Reboot Center offers the latest in stress management technology to help students improve their health, well-being and performance. Reboot has software featuring a variety of visualizations, games and workshops to strengthen stress management skills. As students use programs at Reboot, a sensor provides feedback about physiological levels of stress and relaxation. With practice, students learn to be more confident, calm and relaxed in stressful situations.

No appointment is needed. The Reboot Center is free, and there is no limit on the number of visits. Reboot is open from 8 a.m.-noon and 1-5 p.m. Monday-Friday.

Alcohol & Substance Abuse Center
320 Student Union  |  405-744-2818
ucs.okstate.edu/asac

The consequences of substance use, abuse and addiction affect every college campus in America, and Oklahoma State University is no exception. The transition from high school to college poses unique risks for students to develop dangerous patterns of substance use. Students with alcohol/drug problems face greater risk of dropping out due to personal, financial, family and legal problems. The Alcohol & Substance Abuse staff provides a variety of professional services, including:

• ADSAC/DUI assessments and classes.
• Alcohol and drug assessments.

• Alcohol and drug education outreach presentations.
• Consultation with concerned faculty, staff, students or parents.
• Couples and family outreach.
• Free aftercare for students who have been through inpatient/residential treatment.
• Individual and group substance abuse counseling.
• Treatment referrals.

The center has three dually licensed substance abuse/mental health counselors and a graduate-level counselor in training. Services are provided in a professional, caring and confidential environment. An after-hours drug/alcohol counselor is available for emergencies through the OSU Police Department.

About Pete’s Pet Posse

Pete’s Pet Posse, OSU’s Pet Therapy Program, was established as a wellness program in Fall 2013. Through a cooperative effort of the President’s Office, OSU College of Veterinary Medicine, OSU Veterinary Medical Hospital, University Counseling, Human Resources, and the Employee Assistance Program, the program has experienced much success and has recently expanded to include OSU-Tulsa and the OSU Center for Health Sciences in Fall 2015.

Pet therapy teams must apply to be part of the program and applications are submitted to the Pet Therapy Advisory Board. Once accepted into the program, animals complete extensive training, including a Canine Good Citizen certificate and registration with Alliance of Therapy Dogs. Dogs then serve in their department and also participate in special appearances across campus. The dogs provide an additional wellness benefit to faculty, staff, students, and even visitors. The OSU College of Veterinary Medicine oversees the wellness care of the animals and ensures the animals are maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

These animals belong to families of employees and others affiliated with OSU. The university does not own them. They live with their humans full time and make the campus a little brighter orange each time their furry feet hit the campus.

Pete’s Pet Posse was created to positively enhance physical and emotional health, and contribute to the success of being America’s HEALTHIEST Campus®.

Animals on Campus

As a reminder, only dogs specifically recognized by Pete’s Pet Posse and dogs identified as service animals as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act are allowed in campus buildings. Approved emotional support animals are restricted to residential housing. Other than in the case of these limited exceptions, pets and emotional support animals are not to be in campus buildings.

Student Conduct Education & Administration

328 Student Union  |  405-744-5470
studentconduct.okstate.edu

Student Conduct Education and Administration staff meet with students to assess situations of possible nonacademic misconduct as described in the Student Code of Conduct. SCEA offers education and support to students who may be struggling with behavioral issues and enforces OSU’s community standards.

Code of Conduct

When students enroll at Oklahoma State University, they voluntarily accept terms of performance and behavior consistent with the university’s mission, processes and functions, and accept responsibility for compliance with all university policies and contracts, including the Student Code of Conduct. In general, these obligations are considered much higher than the obligations imposed by civil and criminal law. Each student is responsible for reading the Student Code of Conduct and must agree to abide by it in order to enroll. The Code of Conduct is available online at studentconduct.okstate.edu/code and in print from the Office of Student Conduct Education and Administration.

Cowboy Community Standards

OSU students should follow these behavioral guidelines:

- Citizenship: Be civically responsible and engaged to improve our campus and community.
- Academics: Respect Oklahoma State University’s commitment to academic integrity and uphold the values of honesty and responsibility that preserve our academic community.
- Responsibility: Accept responsibility for your learning, personal behavior and future success, appropriately challenging others to do the same.
- Diversity: Behave in a manner that recognizes and respects individual differences, supporting both pluralism and inclusiveness.
- Safety: Do no harm and help maintain the safety and welfare of the campus community by immediately reporting unusual or dangerous behavior.

To seek help with student behavioral issues and report concerning student behavior or violations of the Student Code of Conduct, contact the Student Conduct office.
Behavioral Consultation Team

405-744-3333
bct.okstate.edu

The Behavioral Consultation Team is a specially trained group of professional staff members from several university departments with mental health, student development, law enforcement, academic, administrative and legal expertise. The team investigates and evaluates threats and other concerning behavior. It implements strategies for managing individuals who may pose a threat of harm. The team’s goal is to work with all parties involved to ensure a safe campus environment.

If you see something, say something. The vigilance of all Cowboys is critical in keeping the campus safe. Team members can’t handle a situation until they are aware of it. The university expects all members of our community to act quickly and responsibly if they hear or see something that is out of the ordinary. It’s important to report any concerns, even if they seem minor. Don’t assume someone else will call.

- In an emergency, call 911.
- Behavioral Consultation Team hotline (weekdays, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. only): 405-744-3333.
- After business hours in nonemergency cases, call OSU PD at 405-744-6523.

Department of Public Safety & the OSU Police

104 USDA Building | 405-744-6523 or 911 for emergencies
police.okstate.edu

Oklahoma State University is committed to ensuring the health, safety and welfare of persons and protection of property on the OSU campus. The efforts of the OSU Police Department and the efforts of all faculty, staff and students have gained OSU the reputation of being one of the safest campuses in the Big 12 Conference. OSU’s Police Department was the first in the state to receive accreditation from the Oklahoma Association of Chiefs of Police.

With all officers dedicated to the philosophy of community policing, OSU has 34 sworn officers, including bicycle and foot patrol, who have enforcement and arrest authority on the OSU campus and Stillwater community who patrol 24 hours a day. Officers participate in many aspects of campus life, trying to solve problems before they become police matters. The OSU Police has mutual aid agreements with both Stillwater Police and the Payne Country Sheriff’s Office, allowing for cooperation in enforcement activities.

OSU’s officers are also able to assist students with minor automotive issues, such as dead batteries, keys locked in the vehicle or adding air to a flat tire.

Emergency Alerts (Reverse 911)
The Campus Alert is a reverse 911 system that will notify you via text or automated voice message regarding emergencies on campus. This system will only be used in an immediate emergency. All students are encouraged to register for the reverse 911 system.

To ensure the alert system has the most accurate information, individuals need to log into okey.okstate.edu. Once logged in:

- Click on “Campus Alerts ” in the left-hand navigation bar.
- Submit an emergency contact number, which should be a student cell phone number.
- Contact the IT Helpdesk (405-744-4357 or helpdesk@okstate.edu) with questions or problems.
Crime prevention

OSU has implemented measures to prevent criminal activity on its campus and surrounding areas. Some of the notable efforts include:

- An emergency telephone system throughout campus and the Greek community.
- Emergency 911 dialing and 24-hour preventative patrols.
- Campus foot patrol by uniformed officers, bicycle officers and undercover officers.
- Burglar alarms in key areas and 24-hour staff in residence halls.
- Partnerships with custodial staff occupying academic buildings after hours to report suspicious activity.
- Crime prevention seminars and presentations conducted each semester with staff and student groups.
- Crime Stopper telephone line: 405-744-TIPS (744-8477).
- Surveillance cameras utilized in chosen parking areas.

Safe Walk Program

OSU’s Safe Walk program provides trained officers to accompany students from one campus location to another between 9 p.m. and 2 a.m. Those interested in receiving assistance should call the OSU Police Department.

In general, students can avoid problems by:

- Locking up valuables and keeping them out of sight in rooms or vehicles.
- Locking doors at night and when they’re away from their rooms. Always lock bicycles and vehicles.
- Avoiding secluded areas late at night, especially if walking alone.
- Protecting books and put their names in them.
- Not leaving personal belongings in public areas.
- Not lending keys to anyone.
- Using complicated passwords and PINs.
- Always being aware of the location of their driver’s licenses, OSU IDs and social security cards.
- Reporting crimes or incidents immediately.
- Not using illegal substances.
- While under 21, never consuming alcoholic beverages.
- Never drinking and driving.

Orange Shield

OSU’s Orange Shield app, free to download, can connect students to campus police and will let authorities know their location should an emergency occur. The app also has features including the Safe Walk program, iReports and a bus schedule. OSU encourages students to download the app to stay up-to-date on campus.
Oklahoma State University is steeped in tradition. Here are a few of our favorites to help you better understand the true meaning of our Cowboy spirit.

Alma Mater
The OSU Alma Mater hymn was written by Robert McCulloh in 1957. Students and alumni link arms and sway as the Alma Mater is played at sporting events and campus ceremonies. The tune can also be heard several times daily across campus from the library bell tower. Just remember, the left arm goes up on the "S" at the end.

ALMA MATER HYMN LYRICS
Proud and immortal
Bright shines your name
Oklahoma State
We herald your fame
Ever you’ll find us
Loyal and true
To our alma mater
O - S - U

Fight songs

THE WAVING SONG
Oklahoma State! Oklahoma State!
We’ll sing your praise tonight;
To let you know where e’er we go,
For the Orange and Black we’ll fight.
We’ll sing your worth o’er all the Earth
And shout: Kí Yí! Kí Ye!
In books of fame we’ll write your name,
Oklahoma State!

RIDE ‘EM COWBOYS
Ride, ride, ride, ride,
Ride ‘em Cowboys,
Right down the field!
Fight! Fight! Fight! Fight!
Fight ‘em Cowboys, and never yield.
Ride, ride, ride, ride,
Ride on, Cowboys, to victory;
Cross (opponent’s) goal;
Then we’ll sing Oklahoma State!

OSU Chant
Go! Go! Go Pokes! Go Pokes! Go Pokes! Go!
O! S! U!
0-S-U
The greatest in the nation
0-S-U
The team that’s got the go spirit and will to win
Make a score and we’ll shout
Beat (opponent)!
O-S-U
It’s orange and black we’re cheering on to victory today
And then we’ll say
STATE!
Univer-si-ty!

Waving
The first documented waving was at Varsity Revue in the 1920s. The Waving Song was adapted from “In Old New York” from the musical The Red Mill. For that finale, a letterman representing each sport joined the chorus onstage. The students added their own memorable touch, swaying and singing, “OAMC! OAMC! We’ll sing your praise tonight,” and waving to the audience in unison. It almost raised the roof off the old building. Exhilarated, the crowd surged to its feet and returned the rhythmic wave. It took two encores before the campus and community gathering was willing to relinquish the emotion of the moment.
Pistol Pete

Until 1923, OSU’s mascot was a tiger, adopted from Princeton University, whose colors were orange and black. At that time, students were looking for a mascot with a better Oklahoma fit. During their search, a group of students saw Frank “Pistol Pete” Eaton riding in a parade and decided to adopt his likeness as their mascot. Eaton served the university for 35 years, appearing at athletic events, building dedications and other university events and was eventually inducted into the National Cowboy Hall of Fame. Each year, two students portray the animated gunslinger Pistol Pete and appear at more than 500 events as a symbol of the university’s fighting spirit.

Bullet and the Spirit Rider

A rider carrying the OSU flag rides a dark horse onto Lewis Field at the beginning of each home game and after each touchdown. The “Spirit Rider” tradition began in 1984 when student John Beall became the first rider, using his own horse. OSU purchased its own Spirit Rider horse in 1988 and named him “Bullet” through a contest in the student newspaper.

Homecoming

Homecoming has been a tradition at OSU since 1914 and was originally held in conjunction with the annual Harvest Carnival. It became a separate event in 1921 and has become one of the nation’s largest homecoming celebrations. Today, OSU’s homecoming draws crowds in excess of 80,000 to Stillwater, with events such as the Harvest Carnival, sign-painting competitions, walk-around, pep rally and the parade. The Edmon Low Library fountain is dyed orange during homecoming.

Orange Fridays

In a show of orange pride, then-President James Halligan encouraged the university to wear orange on the Fridays before football games. Today, every Friday is an orange Friday. On game days, Boone Pickens Stadium is filled with orange as well.

The Walk

On game day, two hours and fifteen minutes prior to the start of the game, the football team walks down Hester Street to Boone Pickens Stadium. Fans gather on the side of the street and cheer their Cowboys on to victory.
Bedlam Games
Many factors contribute to the “college experience” - not the least of which is gaining a feeling of belonging and a sense of loyalty to the school, its faculty and staff, the community that embraces the university and the athletic teams that compete to garner conference and national honors. The history of Bedlam between Oklahoma State and the University of Oklahoma began with the two schools’ wrestling duels and has expanded into multiple sporting events. The original trophy for the winner was a bell clapper taken from Old Central, the oldest building on the OSU campus. These days, a crystal bell trophy is given to winners in each individual sport and an additional trophy given to the overall series winner each year. Fans from both schools turn out to support their favorite university in a rivalry that is impossible to describe.

Theta Pond
The pond, built in 1895, was originally known as the Horse Pond because it watered the horses and other livestock housed nearby in the horse barn. After the barn burned in 1922, the pond became known as Theta Pond, drawing its name from the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority located across what was then College Avenue (now University Avenue). Over the last 60 years, Theta Pond has undergone numerous renovations including expansion, lighting and landscaping. It is customary for people to be “ponded” on special occasions. We don’t recommend it, however. There are even stories of the Sirloin Stockade cow visiting the pond on occasion.

OSU Spirit Run
During the second half of OSU home basketball games, a member of the OSU Spirit Squad runs around the upper level of the arena carrying a huge OSU flag while the Spirit Band plays the William Tell Overture. The flag is passed to other members of the Spirit Squad until it arrives to the center of Eddie Sutton Court to be waved until the end of the song.

First-generation students are individuals whose parents haven’t completed a bachelor’s degree. The First2Go program provides a safe and comfortable atmosphere for these students to ask questions and become knowledgeable on the various aspects of the college experience.

First2Go helps first-generation students create a deeper sense of belonging to the OSU community by providing support through programming and mentoring. Faculty, staff and graduate students provide resources, encouragement and direction as students transition to OSU. Mentors are available to any first-generation student. The mentor relationship can last a lifetime.
Transfer Students

Transfer Credit and Course Placement

Transferring Academic Credit and Concurrent Coursework

Oklahoma State University, in conjunction with Oklahoma’s other institutions of higher education, has developed transfer guides for academic planning when a student attends more than one school in the state. OSU Transfer Credit Guides are created for institutions from which students frequently transfer. These guides assist students in their plan to begin at one institution with the intention of graduating from another with their bachelor’s degree. Interactive transfer guides can be found at okla.st/transfercreditguides (click on “Admissions Requirements” and then “Transfer Credit Guides.”).

Transfer students should understand that everything will transfer from accredited institutions. However, how it transfers depends on your degree program. For example, if you transfer 60 hours taken toward a psychology degree and then decide you’d like to study engineering instead, chances are you’ll need to go back and take foundational math and science courses before you’ll achieve the academic credit equivalent in the engineering curriculum.

Speak first with your academic adviser if you have questions about credits transferring to OSU and/or how they may be used on your degree plan. Your adviser will explain which courses transfer directly to your degree and which ones don’t. You may need to show a course syllabus, catalog description or other documentation for the class in question if a new evaluation needs to be made. Your adviser will assist you through the process.

For additional information regarding transfer requirements, visit University College’s Office of Transfer and Veteran Services at 040 Student Union or call 405-744-1389.

Differences Between Community College and a Comprehensive University

The transitional issues of a transfer student depend heavily on the previous environment. Most transfer students enter OSU with anywhere from a semester of credit to two or more years experience at previous institutions. Often, transfer students have been living at home to save money and have had the support of family and many high school friends nearby. If this describes you, your transition to OSU will most likely be similar to that of an incoming freshman, minus the basic concerns about what college courses are like.

At a two-year school:

• Living close to family and friends often provides built-in support.
• Attendance may have been required.
• Community or junior college courses are all lower level (freshman and sophomore).
• Smaller campuses have fewer buildings.
• Fewer nonacademic involvement opportunities are available.

Attending a comprehensive university:

• May be farther from home and existing support network.
• Coursework builds on foundational classes from the lower division.
• May be a larger campus than previously attended, with resources spread across buildings.
• Students may be expected to do more work on their own.
• Campus involvement opportunities are everywhere, and over-involvement may become an issue. Close attention to time management is needed.
• If the student is transferring from freshman/sophomore-level courses into junior/senior-level courses, the academic expectations shift greatly.
Like the OSU Student Government Association, the Off-Campus Student Association develops networks and works to ensure issues related to the off-campus student population are heard. The purpose of the OCSA is to serve all off-campus students as a general representative body. The OCSA represents the views of its constituents to the university and the community in matters of concern, including but not limited to:

- Interests of off-campus students in OSU, SGA, local, state and national civic affairs.
- Serving as a source of fellowship for uniting off-campus students.
- Promoting off-campus student involvement in the university.
- Assisting off-campus students to find suitable housing and in resolving roommate and landlord conflicts or other rental issues.

Finish Orange

Are you looking to take your associate degree to the next level by completing your bachelor’s degree at OSU? Our Finish Orange plans are semester-by-semester guides to completing your associate degree and then your bachelor’s degree at OSU. For more information, visit academicaffairs.okstate.edu/content/community-college-transfer-programs.

Tau Sigma Honor Society

Tau Sigma is an academic honor society designed specifically to recognize and promote the academic excellence and involvement of transfer students. Tau Sigma recognizes the academic excellence of transfer students, while encouraging and promoting involvement in the university community, especially in activities that assist other transfer students in making a successful transition.

Students are invited to join this organization after completing one semester (12 credit hours or more) at OSU and earning at least a 3.5 OSU GPA. Invitations are typically mailed in May and February. For more information, visit the Tau Sigma National Honor Society website at tausigmanhs.org or contact OSU Tau Sigma adviser Amy Cole-Smith at 405-744-1392 or amcol@okstate.edu.
The International Students & Scholars Office (ISS) is the immigration headquarters for the OSU campus as well as the services office for international students, scholars, faculty and their dependents. At ISS, you must initially complete federally required registration in SEVIS (Student Exchange Visitor Information System). ISS services include SEVIS registration, international orientation, employment registration and authorization, sponsored student services, cultural presentations, International Student Organization coordination and various other services serving the international constituency at OSU.

International students attending OSU will have the added responsibility of maintaining their immigration status. Any questions related to immigrations should be referred to the International Students and Scholars office in 250 Student Union.
Medical Insurance

405-744-7665

The State of Oklahoma has immunization requirements for college and university students that include Measles, Mumps, Rubella, and Hepatitis. Tuberculosis (TB) testing is also required and available at the Student Health Center. For more details and information, visit uhs.okstate.edu.

University Health Services requires students to fill out a health history and immunization form. This form can be found online at uhs.okstate.edu/forms. It is recommended that you complete this form before your arrival on campus. Students should note that they will not be allowed to enroll in their second semester at OSU until this form has been completed. You can either submit the form in person upon your arrival at University Health Services, or you may send the completed form to: University Health Services; 1202 W. Farm Road; Stillwater, OK 74078.

Medical Insurance

Medical Insurance is required for all international students at Oklahoma State University and their dependents as U.S. medical care is extremely expensive. Medical insurance will be provided upon arrival. Fees for insurance will be applied to the first tuition billing statement you receive.

International Student Organization

iso@okstate.edu

The International Student Organization (ISO) was founded in 1978. It is the umbrella organization for 20 area clubs that represent 20 cultures from around the world. Dear Cowboy Parent,

I’d like to offer my advice to you about your student’s new start at OSU in three parts. First, trust that you’ve done a good job raising your child and that the values and skills that you’ve instilled in them will continue to serve them well as they enter adulthood. Of course, you can still be available for a face-to-face visit, but if you let go a little bit more each day and support them from a distance with a phone call, text or letter, you’ll be amazed at how well they manage their lives using your solid foundation and their own wits.

Second, remember yourself as an 18-year-old and reflect on the joy you felt when you did something on your own for the first time. Yes, mistakes will be made; they’re some of the best teachers that young adults will ever have. College students’ lives literally unfold before them day by day and can be exciting and scary. Your reassurance that they can and will achieve their goals, even when they make mistakes, is very important to them.

Finally, remember the goals you’ve always wanted to achieve and start writing the next chapters in your own life. This is a time for new beginnings for everyone, so take advantage of the extra time you may find yourself with to start or restart your own college career, travel, volunteer in your community or find a new hobby. After all, why should your kid have all the fun?

Congratulations! I hope to see you all on Family Weekends!

Assistant Director, Campus Life

Family Weekends

Family Weekends are fun-filled weekends that give students the opportunity to invite their parents to join them on campus. It brings students and family members together for a weekend of fun, fellowship and recognition that includes activities to benefit the family and the university community. The Fall Family Weekend has a focus on dads (known as Dad’s Day) and includes a home football game. The Spring Family Weekend has a focus on moms (known as Mom’s Day) and includes Spring Sing and other related events. Moms are welcome to join the fun in the fall, and dads are welcome to return in the spring for all of the family activities organized around these two weekends.

DATES FOR 2017-2018 FAMILY WEEKEND:

Fall Family Weekend/Dad’s Day: Sept. 22-24, 2017

Homecoming: Oct. 9-15, 2017

Spring Family Weekend/Mom’s Day: TBD in early to mid-April 2018

Oklahoma State University’s Homecoming celebration lasts a week and marks the return of the Cowboy family to Stillwater for traditional events and fun. Students and the entire campus work together to produce an amazing week punctuated with Walkaround on Friday evening followed by the homecoming football game on Saturday.

The OSU Alumni Association, along with the Homecoming Executive Committee, invites you to join us for the 2017 edition of “America’s Greatest Homecoming Celebration.” OSU will host Baylor University for the annual homecoming football game.
Supporting Your Student Through the Transition

Transitions are not limited to the first few weeks of attending a university. While no list is all-inclusive, the following are a few areas you may want to consider when talking with your student throughout the year.

AUGUST
Freshmen generally experience an overall excitement, along with feelings of being homesick, initial roommate worries, abuse of freedom, multiple calls, visits home and other changes. Transfer students will be adjusting to a new academic system and may also be facing their first time away from home.

SEPTEMBER
The first set of tests generally comes in the fourth or fifth week of each semester. Other concerns can be possible roommate challenges, finding ways to get involved with student groups and initiating friendships.

OCTOBER
Six-week grades for freshman- and sophomore-level courses are posted. Some may experience the results of personal decision-making related to time spent on schoolwork versus time spent with friends. There may be issues with fitting in and establishing an identity.

NOVEMBER
Fall illnesses, tests and papers due, enrollment for the next semester, apprehension and excitement about going home for Thanksgiving (What type of questions will be asked? Will the family be proud? Am I heading in the right direction?) and family Thanksgiving traditions can all cause anxiety.

DECEMBER
Finals week, last projects, money issues, as well as continued mixed feelings about going home for winter break and family traditions for the holidays might be of concern.

JANUARY
It’s a new semester, and decisions and adjustments regarding fall semester performance will need to be made.

FEBRUARY
Some students may be upset about Valentine’s Day, some miss home again, some are relieved to be back at school, and some just want winter to end. Initial decisions about a living situation for next year may arise.

MARCH
Spring break, making choices for the next school year such as deciding to keep current majors or consider new ones, midterms, summer employment or trying to gain an internship may mean stress.

APRIL
As spring weather returns, the end of the semester is coming fast. Questions of “Am I in the right place? Am I heading in the right direction?” become apparent.

MAY
Final exams, last-minute summer planning, choosing to stay or go home, feeling upset about leaving friends, overwhelmed that the first year at OSU is over, wondering if they accomplished what was attempted, as well as family and/or work activities throughout the summer can all cause questions.

Some common concerns for all incoming students include:
- Separation issues.
- Independence.
- Degree choice.
- Career questions.
- Study skills.
- Time management.
- Being accepted.
- Understanding the OSU system.
- Staying healthy.

We believe the best way you can help your students is to:
- Listen to their fears.
- Help them take initiative.
- Know campus resources.
- Send notes/care packages.
- Avoid “taking care of everything.”
- Stay open and positive.
- Encourage them to connect with an upperclassman, staff member, faculty member or other mentor.
Advice for Common Concerns

PERSONAL ISSUES

Area of concern
Your daughter lives in a suite and says her roommate is driving her crazy with late night phone calls, friends who are over all the time, messy habits and a lack of respect for her things. She thought being in the suites would bring more quiet time than this, so now she wants a private room or apartment instead. She wants you to talk with Residential Life to request a switch.

Considerations
Has your student ever shared a room before? Did she and her roommate talk about basic expectations and “rules of the room” before school began? Does the roommate know the things she is doing are bothering your daughter? Have they asked for help from their resident adviser (RA)? One of the most interesting nonacademic sides of the college transition comes in the form of another student in your child’s living space. Some students fail to realize academics are only part of the college equation. The bigger part is taking responsibility and learning to face new challenges. It’s important that roommates communicate to attempt solutions before giving up or deciding the problems are too difficult to overcome without drastic measures. Encourage your student to talk to her RA for guidance. The best thing is to discuss communication and problem-solving techniques while encouraging your child to initiate the request for outside assistance.

Who can help?
• Your student’s resident adviser (RA)
• Residential Life: 405-744-5592

STUDENT/PROFESSOR ISSUES

Area of concern
Your son makes a D on the first test and says it’s OK because this is only the first test and there are lots of other grades that will improve his average. You later learn that your son has not kept up with his daily assignments and said that he thinks the professor is being unfair by calling on him often in class. He says that he is working on it and will do better on the next test.

Considerations
Does your son have a history of good study habits? Does he understand that the skills needed to study in a four-year university may be different from what he is used to at a smaller school or high school? Does he know that he can talk to the professor if he is really trying and needs help? Is he afraid to talk to his professor? You can help him with a few conversation starters for an initial meeting with his professor. Suggest he make an appointment to discuss how he is approaching the course and studying. During the appointment, it may help to have the exam in hand to look at specific types of questions. He could ask the professor to suggest effective ways to study specific material. It helps to have conversations about time management and study habits now, before classes begin. Encourage class attendance every day, even if the professor doesn’t take roll. Prepare your student for the hard work ahead and remind him that college is a serious commitment to the future that requires his full attention.

Who can help?
• Academic advisers
• Professors — Students will have contact information on the course syllabus as well as through the online directory at directory.okstate.edu.
• LASSO Tutoring — 405-744-3309 (or other tutoring offices directly related to the course)
DISCOURAGEMENT ISSUES

Area of concern
The first time your son comes home, he seems a little withdrawn, surprising you because every conversation while he’s been at school has been OK. You chalk it up to getting a handle on his new life. On Sunday, before he leaves for school, he finally tells you that he hasn’t felt well, his classes are difficult and he just isn’t sure that college is for him. He’s unhappy with his major choice, doesn’t feel as though he’s connecting with new friends and isn’t enjoying college life in general.

Considerations
What kind of expectations did your student have about college? Was this more difficult than he expected? Did he know his own personal reasons for attending? Does he have an idea of what he wants to do following college, or does he even see the need for college in his future plans? Is his health OK? If he has ever seen a counselor for related issues, this might be a good time to revisit that relationship in the college setting. Sometimes having a third party to talk with is just what a student needs to discover a more objective approach to a given situation. OSU counselors are skilled at recognizing transitional issues and helping students address them at the appropriate levels, often using campus resources geared specifically for college-based situations.

Not only is your student transitioning to college, but he’s also transitioning to adulthood. The pressure grows on him to know what he wants. Make sure he knows you’re available to talk and that you understand this is a big step for anyone. Also encourage him to seek help from his academic adviser or other campus resources like those listed below.

Who can help?
- Academic advisers
- University Counseling, 405-744-5458
- OSU Career Services, 405-744-5253
- University Health Services, 405-744-7665

MONEY ISSUES

Area of Concern
Your son asks you to send more money because he has exceeded the limit on his bursar account and his meal plan is maxed out. It’s not even Thanksgiving yet, and you can’t understand why he is out of money.

Considerations
What kind of expectations have you discussed regarding spending? Is his meal plan enough? Does he realize how much he is really spending? Has he ever had a charge card? Is he letting others eat on his meal plan?

Before your student arrives for school, determine who pays for the various expenses ahead. Parking tickets? Dinners out? Clothing? What budget is your student expected to follow? How does he monitor his spending for fun things? Does he need to look into a job to cover his spending habits? Has he considered taking a job on campus? Has there been a recent family crisis that caused a tightening of the budget?

OSU extends charging privileges to students for campus-based services. Bursar accounts must remain current or charging privileges will be revoked. This will not affect meal plans with balances remaining. However, additional money cannot be added if the account is not current. Enrollment holds may also be applied if the student’s bursar account is past due.

Living Away from Home

Students who live on campus are more involved, graduate earlier and make better grades than students who live off campus. There is always something to do, people to meet and experiences to share.

Preparing to live in the residence halls can be very exciting and somewhat stressful. You and your child can go to the Housing & Residential Life website and find all the information you’ll need to know about moving into the halls including a list of what to bring, what to leave at home, room measurements, virtual room tours, how to connect a computer, what parking is like and how to get along with roommates. There is a helpful and informative campus map, as well as directions for move-in day. Be sure to read all of the information and print it out to bring with you when you move to campus.

Welcome Parents and Families,

Thank you for choosing Oklahoma State University to continue your student’s education. This can be an exciting time for you and your student, as well as a time of anxiety. That is why I want you to know the Department of Housing & Residential Life is committed to providing your student with a safe and positive living-learning environment.

OSU offers many opportunities for students to be involved within the campus community. We think our Residential Community Educators, Assistant Residential Community Educators and Community Mentors can serve as a catalyst in connecting students to co-curricular opportunities. Research has indicated that if students are actively engaged outside of the classroom, they increase their chances of performing well academically and have an overall higher level of satisfaction. We also staff our facilities 24 hours a day to assist students with both routine concerns and emergency situations.

Our mission is to provide safe, affordable and well-maintained residential communities, which encourage individuals to value learning, respect diversity, act responsibly, promote service and foster engagement. In addition, we provide outstanding service and a commitment to student safety. You should never hesitate to contact our office if you have any questions or concerns regarding our facilities and services.

Thank you,

Leon McClinton, Jr., Ph.D.
Director, Housing & Residential Life
Housing and rates

OSU offers attractive and convenient housing on campus, with options to meet every lifestyle and budget. There are three styles of housing to choose from: community-style halls, suites and apartments.

Living on campus is not only convenient in location, but it’s also convenient on the pocketbook. All bills are covered in the room rent including electricity, water, sewer, expanded basic cable television and OSU computer access. There is only one deposit to make. Please check the Housing & Residential Life website for current housing rates.

Security in the halls

OSU takes your child’s safety seriously, providing security phones across campus, hall staff members on duty in each hall 24 hours per day and one of the fastest response times of any police department. In addition, we provide card-sweep access on exterior doors, automated fire suppression systems and commercial-grade locks in all of our facilities. Personal prevention is one of the most important factors in providing a safe environment. Students should lock their room doors at all times, including when they’re home and when they leave their room, even if it’s just to walk down the hall for a minute or two. Also, when the building doors are locked, they shouldn’t let anyone have access to the building by holding open the door or propping the door open. Many halls offer 24-hour desk services to provide additional supervision.

Living and Learning Communities

Residential Life offers many learning communities and special-interest housing options on campus. These communities are great opportunities for students to live with others who share their interests and may also share similar classes, allowing them to form study groups. For more information, visit the Residential Hall website and click on the “Learning Communities” link.
Oklahoma State University is committed to providing accessible and affordable higher education for our students. Our desire is to help students shorten the time to degree completion and assist with financial budgeting. OSU’s block rate includes tuition and universitywide fees for students taking 12 to 18 credit hours.

Benefits of Block Tuition

The “block” rate, equal to OSU’s 15-hour rate, serves as one of OSU’s strategies to help students stay on target and finish college in 4 years. Enrolling in an average of 15 hours per semester puts students in line to graduate in four years. In addition, block tuition saves additional years’ cost for room, board, transportation, and other expenses related to attending college, reduces student loan debt, and allows entry into the workforce earlier. We encourage students to work closely with advisers to determine the optimum number of credit hours for their first semester. This may mean taking fewer hours some semesters and more other semesters depending on multiple influencing factors.

Block Tuition Details

- Part-time undergraduate students (those taking fewer than 12 hours), graduate students, and professional students will continue to be charged on a per credit hour basis.
- Full-time undergraduate students (those registering in 12 to 18 hours) will be charged a block rate for tuition and universitywide fees. Universitywide fees in the block rate include: student activity fees, student facility fees, library automation and technology fee, health services fee, student development fee, Daily O’Colly fee, academic records fee, academic excellence fee, transit/parking services fee, advising/assessment fee, university technology infrastructure maintenance fee, academic facilities, life safety and security fee and student union renovation fee. Academic Service Fees such as specific course fees and/or college based fees are not included in the block rate and will continue to be charged on a per-credit-hour basis.
- August intersession courses are part of the fall semester and winter intersession courses are part of the spring semester.
- Courses counted toward the block include OSU-Stillwater courses, OSU-Tulsa courses, 5XX outreach courses (e.g. online courses), NOC-Stillwater courses, and graduate level courses taken by undergraduate students (excluding online NOC courses).

Exceptions

Full-time undergraduate students who have selected tuition lock will continue to be charged on a per-credit-hour basis.

Students who feel they are unable to enroll in 15 credit hours may apply for an exception. The appeal form must be completed by the student and returned to the appropriate office for review. Exceptions may include students with disabilities or health issues, seniors who need fewer than 15 hours in a semester to graduate or fewer than 30 hours in a fall and spring to graduate, students studying abroad and students participating in officially sponsored activities to which 25 or more hours per week are committed. The appeal form will be available prior to the start of each semester.

Banking Hours

If a student cannot take 15 hours in the fall and/or spring semesters, OSU will offer the option of “banking” hours to be used in the summer term (courses offered in May, June and July) directly following without paying additional tuition and universitywide fees. For banked hours, students will still be responsible for college-based and course-based fees. The number of hours a student is allowed to bank for summer can only be accumulated based on the semesters a student pays the block rate. The number of banked hours possible for the summer term will never exceed six hours (for block tuition paid both fall and spring semester) or three hours (for block tuition paid one fall or spring semester).

For the full and most up-to-date information, including the exceptions and appeals process, please visit blockrate.okstate.edu.
Managing your Money

Budgeting Basics
Planning your college and personal finances can be one of the most important challenges you’ll face. It’s important that you understand how to handle your money, whether it’s your financial aid, scholarships, money from your family, your paycheck, or even loans and credit cards. The investment you make in your early college years concerning money management and basic financial planning strategies can make a huge difference in your financial future! Don’t underestimate how important personal finance is to your health. Planning your personal finances is critically important to your success in college and can greatly reduce your stress. One of the best ways to manage your money is to develop a budget and learn to stick to it. Setting up a budget is really not that difficult. Sticking to it can be a challenge at first; it just takes some planning and determination on your part.

To set up a budget, first determine what money you have coming in, essentially your income. Second, figure out your expenses, and third, determine your plan of action to save and pay your expenses. It’s important that you keep track of your savings, income and expenses. If you find your expenses are greater than your income, it may mean making some sacrifices, finding additional income or seeking out other resources.

Finding a Student Job
Working while in college is a great way to build experience and earn money. There are many on- and off-campus job opportunities that are both financially and personally rewarding. Specifically, on-campus jobs provide an excellent way to make campus connections, work around your class schedule and develop skills to add to your résumé.

To apply for student jobs on- and off-campus, including work study, visit HireOSUGrads.com or Career Services in 360 Student Union. For additional assistance, contact 405-744-5253 or careers@okstate.edu.

Helpful Hints for Saving Money

- Buy used textbooks, if possible, for the best prices. Be sure you know the store’s buy-back policy on textbooks.
- Make the maximum use of your meal plan and save eating out for special occasions.
- Take advantage of the free entertainment opportunities on campus. OSU offers a variety of free activities, including incredible speakers, concerts, movies, workshops, dances and a host of other events for learning, entertainment and involvement outside of the classroom.
- Use student discounts, online coupons and student coupon books.
- Avoid parking tickets on campus by parking in your designated parking area.
- Save your gas by riding your bike, renting a bike from OrangeRide, or utilizing The Bus, OSU’s bus system, to travel around campus and around Stillwater.
- Keep track of charges you make to your OSU Bursar Account. Treat your student ID card like a bank card. Review your account status online at least once per week.
- Control how much you spend on optional items, such as magazines, newspapers, pets, music, video games, vacations, etc.
- Study! Creating success in college requires hard work. The majority of that work takes place outside of the classroom. Spending time studying individually and in groups can keep you from spending money on unnecessary expenses and helps with timely graduation.
- Take advantage of the free resources offered at OSU, including tutoring, the Colvin Recreation Center, on-campus computer labs and printing stations, and discounted medical and mental health services.

- Review your degree requirements sheet, located at registrar.okstate.edu.
- Utilize major and career exploration tools at HireOSUGrads.com if needed.
- Log on to Banner at my.okstate.edu and look at available course sections. In addition, review your registration holds under the “Student Records” section. Registration holds must be cleared before you will be able to enroll.
- Think FINISH IN FOUR. Plan on taking 15 hours per semester and/or averaging 30 hours per year.
- Create or review your four-year academic plan (page 76-77)

During your appointment

- Review major and minor options with your adviser.
- Talk about your four-year academic plan.
- Discuss ways to enhance your experience at OSU. Find out about Study Abroad programs that would work well with your major, scholarships that you can apply for, and getting more out of your degree by graduating with honors or distinction.
- Ask about any course overrides or special permissions. Your adviser should be able to direct you on how to obtain these.

After your appointment

- Deliver any necessary paperwork to the Office of the Registrar, 324 Student Union.
- Keep all the documents from your advising appointment.
- Plan out possible schedules based on your conversation with your adviser about courses.
- Enroll in courses on Banner. Once you have processed your enrollment, print your detailed schedule.
- If you need to change your schedule, consult with your academic adviser first. In addition, please refer to the academic calendar for important drop/add/withdraw deadlines. The academic calendar can be found at registrar.okstate.edu.

Types of Academic Advisers

There are three basic types of academic advisers at OSU. Your advising experience will vary across academic colleges and a combination of these may be used throughout your experience.

PROFESSIONAL ADVISERS are generally centrally-located in an academic college’s student success center. These individuals have a wide range of knowledge regarding majors within their specific academic college.

MAJOR/DEPARTMENTAL ADVISERS are generally located within the specific department office and advise students within specific majors within that department.

FACULTY ADVISERS are generally located throughout the college. These advisers are faculty members who are knowledgeable about the curriculum, mentor students within their field of study, and hold specific office hours for advising.

Career Planning

It’s never too early to begin meeting with your college career consultant. Make an appointment to discuss your career plan to go along with your academic plan, including internships, organization involvement, career fairs, and networking opportunities. For more information, visit your college student success office or HireOSUGrads.com.
Tips to Finishing in Four

- Use all of the information provided to you during orientation.
- Ask for help! Utilize the resources provided, including the LASSO Tutoring Center, the Math Learning Success Center, University Counseling Services, etc.
- Consult your academic adviser to make a plan for graduation. Your adviser wants to help you succeed in your goal to FINISH IN FOUR! Utilize expertise available to help craft a plan for completing your degree requirements.
- Think 15! Enroll in 15 hours each semester and get the most out of your tuition and time.
- Go to class. Enough said.
- Study. You should study at least two hours per week for every credit hour for which you are enrolled. Create a good study group or study on your own in a quiet place with few distractions.
- Go to see your professors during office hours. Discuss how to be successful in their class, clarify class assignments, ask questions about what you do not understand or just get to know them.
- Go to tutoring. At some point everyone can benefit assistance with coursework.
- Learn to balance personal and academic endeavors. College very different than high school. Use a planner and learn to manage your time efficiently.
- Know the details of your degree requirements sheet.
- Use your OSU email account. This is where all important information will be sent, including correspondence with professors, campus activities, news, etc.
- Look into summer school and intersession options to help stay on track to FINISH IN FOUR. This is a great way to make up lost time or retake a course in which you withdrew or made less than a “C” grade.
- Work with Career Services from day one. Go to HireOSUGrads.com and use the online assessments to help you explore and choose a major or learn more about your career field. Make an appointment with your college career consultant to talk about internships and more.

Staying the Course or Dropping a Class

Step 1: Gather Information

- What is my current situation in the class? What do I need to do to improve my situation? What grade have I earned at this point?
- How much time and effort have I put into the course? How much time and effort do I need to invest?
- Have I sought tutoring or success coaching for additional assistance?
- How much of the final grade is already determined? How well do I need to do on future tests and papers?
- What does the professor recommend?

Step 2: Identify questions

- How will dropping this course affect my financial aid, scholarships, honors college status, medical insurance, or housing?
- How will this drop affect my graduation plan?
- What are my chances of passing the class?
- What do my parents/family think is the best option?

Step 3: Consider the consequences

- Where are the consequences of earning a “D” or “F” grade in the class? How will retaking the class affect my GPA?
- Is this course a prerequisite for something else I need to take? Is at least a “C” required to satisfy the prerequisite?
- Is my foundation of knowledge from this course strong enough to move on to the next class?
- How will investing more time in this course affect my performance in other classes?
- What are the consequences of having a “W” on my transcript?
- If I drop the class, will I have trouble fitting into my schedule in the future?

Before dropping any course at OSU, you should always consult your adviser. In addition, make sure you are aware of drop and withdraw deadlines found on the academic calendar at registrar.okstate.edu. If you are taking courses that do not meet the entire semester, the drop and withdraw dates will be different.
Academic Planning

Identify your areas of interest

If you have identified your intended degree program, there are many resources on campus regarding degree requirements and completion plans for your chosen area of study. These are detailed below.

If you are still exploring possible degree interests, speak with your academic adviser and utilize online resources like those housed on the OSU Career Services website. The links at the left will help detail Career Exploration resources. To go directly to these exploration sites, visit hireosugrads.com/StudentsAlumni/ExploreCareers-Assessment.aspx and begin investigating potential majors and careers. Self-assessment options like “Do What You Are” and “Woofound” help focus on majors and careers related to your interests and personality. Other assessments are available with special codes from the Career Services office.

Degree sheets and course descriptions

All degree sheets and course descriptions may be downloaded from the OSU Registrar’s website, registrar.okstate.edu, under the “Degree Requirements” link. Once you have printed off your degree requirements sheet, you should read through the course descriptions for your program of study to get a better feel for the types of courses you’ll be taking. Course descriptions are located on the Registrar’s website under the “University Catalog” link on the left side.

Finish in Four Plans

Individual academic colleges provide Finish in Four and Degree Planning resources on their websites. Once you have identified the degree program you wish to pursue, visit the corresponding college site for degree planning possibilities and additional enrollment information.

- College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources
  casnr.okstate.edu/academics/finish-in-4

- College of Arts and Sciences
  casstudents.okstate.edu/finish-in-four-plans

- College of Education

- College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology

- College of Human Sciences
  humansciences.okstate.edu/component/content/article/37

- Spears School of Business
  spears.okstate.edu/ss/finish-in-four/

Take a close look at the course sequencing your degree program requires. Remember that these four year plans are often meant to be examples. In some cases you will have to take major related courses in a certain order due to pre-requisite requirements. In other cases, you may be able to adjust the order of courses listed on the plan. You will work with your academic adviser to better understand where you can make changes and where sequencing cannot be changed.

Double Majors and Minors

Consider the areas you may want to combine as you develop your degree and career plan. If you would like to include a second major, you will choose the primary “home base” degree you would like to receive and build the major requirements from the second major area into your course planning. If you would like to pursue a minor, these requirements are also housed on the Registrar’s website: registrar.okstate.edu/Minors-and-Certificates.

For explanation of OSU’s general education requirements, read pages 16-18 or use the general education lists under course information on my.okstate.edu. You can also visit registrar.okstate.edu for detailed information on general education requirements, specific degree requirements, as well as prerequisite information located in the pages of the course catalog.
