Welcome Week 2019

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 14 – SUNDAY, AUG. 18
The Division of Student Affairs encourages you to explore everything OSU has to offer and seek out a meaningful college experience through becoming connected, learning and maintaining wellness. Throughout your years at Oklahoma State, you will be exposed to each of the following areas through a variety of programs and services that will help you succeed in school and life.

I Am Connected.

Many times it’s all about connections, right? At OSU we encourage our students to become connected and grow as leaders. The university has many opportunities including living programs, jobs, student organizations, college involvement and memberships in diverse groups. Take advantage of everything OSU has to offer.

I Am Learning.

The Division of Student Affairs wants you to learn both in and outside of the classroom. It is the division’s hope that students will become part of a community of learners and gain understanding, expertise and insights. There are many ways to learn at OSU at all levels, including academic programming, workplace experience, service-learning and so much more.

I Am Well.

Keeping yourself well is essential to a positive student experience. Being a part of America’s Healthiest Campus, there are many services and programs offering assistance physically, psychologically, financially and socially. Remember, there is only one you. Take care of yourself and make wellness a priority.

Finally, be sure to inspire others by sharing your #iamokstate passions, stories and interests. Among the best resources on this campus are the extraordinary students, and we want you to be part of our story. You can participate simply by tagging #iamokstate on your favorite social media platforms and highlighting what OSU means to you.

The division has also created a set of web resources at iam.okstate.edu. We encourage you to explore the site and learn more about the division’s offerings. There are many wonderful programs and services available to assist you and get you started with your career at Oklahoma State.
Academics

- Meet with your academic adviser regularly to discuss interests and options and receive referrals to other campus resources.
- Discuss all major areas of study that interest you. Form a plan of action for narrowing your academic focus or blending majors and minors.
- Look for ways to develop your own version of your degree program through special programs, concentrations of coursework and exchange or study-abroad programs.
- Develop skills in time management, goal setting and study habits to make the most of your academics.
- Set a desired GPA each semester, and strive to reach it by using tutoring resources and study groups.
- Attend academic improvement workshops (First Year Success, LASSO, your academic college and your learning community will offer opportunities for these).
- Check your O-Key email and Online Classroom accounts regularly to be sure you receive all announcements from your professors.
- Learn all you can by investigating potential degree programs and visiting faculty members to further discuss potential areas of study.

Career

- Establish relationships with faculty members, academic advisers, peers, deans, staff and administrators.
- Develop your communication skills, both oral and written (LASSO success coaches and the Writing Center are great resources).
- Become familiar with the services provided by HireOSUgrads.com and college career consultants early so you can develop a career plan that complements your academic plan.
- Obtain relevant work experiences through internships, co-ops, volunteer work, part-time jobs and summer jobs.
- Write a résumé and have Career Services review it to determine areas for development.
- Attend career development workshops to connect academic and career goals.

Personal

- Stay in contact with family and keep them informed about your college experience.
- Maintain a healthy lifestyle by using wellness services on campus, such as the Colvin Recreation Center and wise dining choices.
- Follow an appropriate sleep schedule.
- Assess your health at the Seretean Wellness Center.
- Strive to meet new people and build relationships in your living community (that means getting out of your room and joining the fun on your floor).

Campus Involvement

- Identify and join student organizations or volunteer activities that will provide leadership opportunities while you explore interests and build skills.
- Connect with student groups and campus activities through CampusLink.
- Join a major, college or department-related student group.
- Identify campus resources and get to know OSU and the Stillwater community.
- Read the O’Colly, the sidewalks and the signs around campus so you won’t miss opportunities and club meetings you want to attend.
The Office of First Year Success seeks to connect freshmen to the resources they need on campus and offers individualized training and support in areas of leadership, social and professional development, and financial literacy. Through the use of engagement specialists, financial planning counselors and student ambassadors, our office helps freshmen identify, access and utilize services on campus.

ENGAGEMENT

Engagement specialists build supportive relationships with freshmen for the purpose of developing individual strategies that ensure a successful transition from high school into college life. One method to accomplish this is to provide individualized success plans and referral recommendations for students. These specialists understand student struggles, the campus resources for addressing them, and the collaborative efforts required to work as a campus wide team.

FINANCIAL PLANNING

Financial planning counselors meet with freshmen to educate them on financial literacy and employ a variety of tools and resources to encourage financial success.

Our financial planning counselors use a variety of methods to educate students and campus partners, including:

- Individual strategy meetings with students to map out plans to fund education or overcome financial setbacks.
- Presentations in first-year seminars for the various colleges.
- FAFSA workshops.
- Meeting with students at various campus events.

REFERRALS

If you or someone you know may benefit from our services, please refer them to our office using the online referral form located on our website or contact us directly.

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE AND TUTORING

As you begin taking college-level courses, you may realize that some are more difficult for you than others. It’s critical that you engage in your coursework to succeed. OSU offers free tutoring to all students. Academically successful students use tutoring and other academic resources as they look for help early.

The main tutoring services offered on campus are located in LASSO. Academic colleges and departments may also offer tutoring through Living Learning Programs or within college spaces. We suggest you begin with LASSO.

LASSO TUTORING CENTER
021 Classroom Building
405-744-3309 | lasso.okstate.edu

The LASSO Center’s Paul Milburn Tutoring Program offers free one-on-one tutoring for many of OSU’s courses to any student on campus. Qualified tutors meet GPA and course content criteria and are approved by the LASSO Center staff. For more information about tutoring on campus, check out the LASSO Resource Guide under the resource table at lasso.okstate.edu.

In addition to tutoring services, LASSO offers Academic Success Coaching and Supplemental Instruction. Academic Success Coaching is designed for students who would like to improve or further develop their academic success skills like time management, goal setting, prioritizing and other personal improvement areas. Supplemental Instruction is offered in specific courses each semester. For more information, consult your faculty members or the LASSO homepage.

BUDGETING BASICS

Planning your college and personal finances can be one of the most important challenges you’ll face. It’s important that you understand how to handle your money, whether it’s your financial aid, scholarships, money from your family, your paycheck, or even loans and credit cards. The investment you make in your early college years concerning money management and basic financial planning strategies can make a huge difference in your financial future! Don’t underestimate how important personal finance is to your health. Planning your personal finances is critically important to your success in college and can greatly reduce your stress. One of the best ways to manage your money is to develop a budget and learn to stick to it.

To set up a budget, first determine what money you have coming in, essentially your income. Second, figure out your expenses, and third, determine your plan of action to save and pay your expenses. It’s important that you keep track of your savings, income and expenses. If you find your expenses are greater than your income, it may mean making some sacrifices, finding additional income or seeking out other resources.

FINDING A STUDENT JOB

Working while in college is a great way to build experience and earn money. There are many on- and off-campus job opportunities that are both financially and personally rewarding. Specifically, on-campus jobs provide an excellent way to make campus connections, work around your class schedule and develop skills to add to your résumé.

To apply for student jobs on- and off-campus, including work study, visit HireOSUGrads.com or Career Services in 360 Student Union. For additional assistance, contact 405-744-5253 or careers@okstate.edu.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR SAVING MONEY

• Buy used textbooks, if possible, for the best prices. Be sure you know the store’s buy-back policy on textbooks.
• Make the maximum use of your meal plan and save eating out for special occasions.
• Take advantage of the free entertainment opportunities on campus. OSU offers a variety of free activities, including incredible speakers, concerts, movies, workshops, dances and a host of other events for learning, entertainment and involvement outside of the classroom.
• Use student discounts, online coupons and student coupon books.
• Avoid parking tickets on campus by parking in your designated parking area.
• Save your gas by riding your bike, renting a bike from OrangeRide or utilizing The Bus, OSU’s bus system, to travel around campus and around Stillwater.
• Keep track of charges you make to your OSU Bursar Account. Treat your student ID card like a bank card. Review your account status online at least once per week.
• Control how much you spend on optional items, such as magazines, newspapers, pets, music, video games, vacations, etc.
• Study! Creating success in college requires hard work. The majority of that work takes place outside of the classroom. Spending time studying individually and in groups can keep you from spending money on unnecessary expenses and helps with timely graduation.
• Take advantage of the free resources offered at OSU, including tutoring, the Colvin Recreation Center, on-campus computer labs and printing stations, and discounted medical and mental health services.

Helpful tools and resources can be found on the Scholarships & Financial Aid website, financialaid.okstate.edu.

THE HONORS COLLEGE DEAN’S WELCOME AND DESSERT
265 Student Union, Student Union Ballroom
First year Honors College students are invited to attend a special welcome reception hosted by Dr. Keith Garbutt, Honors College dean. We will take a class photo on the balcony and steps of the Student Union, and ice cream will be served. Following the event, students are invited to ring the historic bell at Old Central to signify their initiation into The Honors College. Pete’s Pet Posse dogs will also be in attendance. Presented by The Honors College
